Community Pool Site Endorsed by Township For New Firehouse

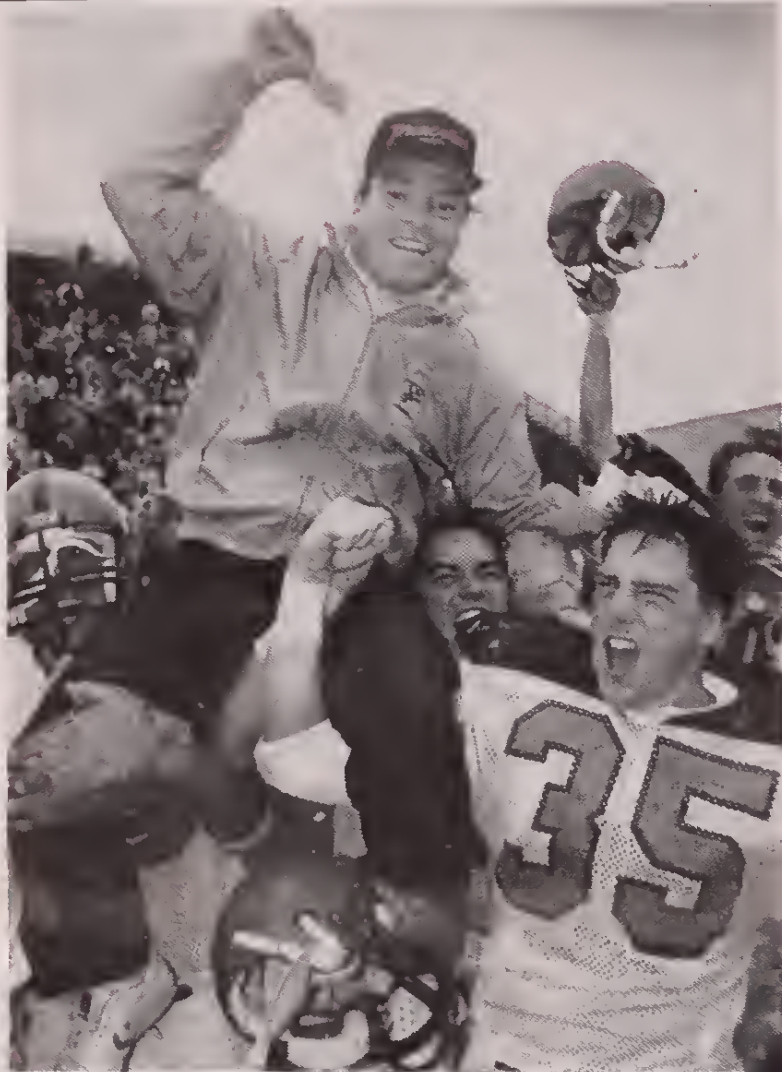

A new site plan, which could expedite construction of a new firehouse, has been endorsed by Township Committee. The plan was scheduled to be shown to Borough Council last Tuesday, as TOWN TOPICS went to press, and to be reviewed by the Planning Board in early October.

The plan was unveiled to Township Committee Monday night by architect Jerry Ford, who has been working with the Township Facilities Study Committee to plan larger and improved Township police and court facilities, in addition to a firehouse in the Township to replace the one on Chambers Street.

Under the new proposal, the new firehouse would be located on Township-owned land on the west side of Witherspoon Street, in front of the Community Pool. Mr. Ford proposes straightening the diagonally-laid-out Community Pool parking lot for a net gain of 72 spaces. The present lot holds 126 cars; Mr. Ford has re-configured it at 198 spaces, with 20 additional spaces reserved for firemen alongside the firehouse. That parking space would be grass-over-paving-block, so that it would not be confused with the public parking lot behind the firehouse.

To accommodate the firehouse, the present vehicle entrance to the Community Pool lot would be moved south to opposite the front steps of the Valley Road building. The present Recreation Office would have to be moved, or demolished, and the Recreation Department would lose a small corner of green space to accommodate the straightened parking lot.

The plan also shows a new building to house the police department and municipal court that would be built on the parking lot adjacent to the

Princeton Junction Station Looking Bright, New and Modern As Final Landscaping and Site Clean-up Approach Completion

The pond is still there, the railroad tracks still disappear at a pinpoint in the distance, but almost everything else about Princeton Junction railroad station is new or newly renovated. After 2½ years of construction and delays, the station building is complete and the final landscaping and site clean-up are under way.

The new station and extensive platforms sit high above the parking lots and the graded railroad tracks. Conductors no longer drop stairs and offer a steadying hand to homeward bound commuters. The train now glides into the station, doors open and passengers step out directly onto the platform level and fan out to a system of ramps and stairways.

The Junction no longer has the sleepy old-fashioned look it used to share with small-town railroad stops across the country. The new station house sitting on the New York-bound platform has the angular modern design of passive solar construction. Inside it is bright, airy, clean, and free of the cigarette haze of the old waiting room. Polished oak benches line the marine-blue tile walls and the floor is pale gray slate.

The focus of the waiting room is away from the tracks to a view through large plate glass windows that wrap around the corner facing the pond. Freshly dredged and algae-free, the pond area has been cleared enough to offer a natural vista worth gazing at when the train is late.

The ticket office in the new station house is open from 6 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. during the week and from 8:30 a.m. to 4:10 p.m. on the weekend. Riders should purchase tickets at the station rather than on the train to save an on-board surcharge. Non-commuters who are tempted to hop an Amtrak train to the city should be cautioned. Off-peak service, one-way to New York is $6.50 (add $3 for a round-trip ticket) on New Jersey Transit; the same trip on Amtrak costs $23.

Below the station house, at parking lot level, the area under the ticket office/waiting room will eventually house a vendor serving com-

Battle Looms at Public Hearings Over Proposed Calton Settlement

A major battle is shaping up in the Township over the proposed settlement agreement with Calton Homes Inc. on the development of the White Farm site.

As TOWN TOPICS went to press Tuesday, the first of two or three public hearings was scheduled to allow public input on a proposal which would permit 300 units to be built on the 122-acre tract. This is 93 fewer units than were the subject of an earlier settlement agreement. That agreement had to be renegotiated when it was discovered by surveys that there are fewer acres on the tract than shown on tax maps which were the basis of the negotiations.

The hearings are being held before a joint meeting of Township Committee and the Planning Board, the two defendants in the "builder's remedy" lawsuit sanctioned by the state Supreme Court in the 1983 Mt. Laurel decision and instigated by Calton Homes in January, 1984.

Township Committee and the Planning Board must each approve the proposed agreement, and each will vote independently of the other at the conclusion of the public comment.

If approved, the agreement will be presented to Judge Eugene Serpentei of Toms River along with the Township's entire affordable housing program as ordinance. Judge Serpentei was appointed by the Supreme Court to hear Mt. Laurel disputes in this area.

According to Gerald Muller, the Planning Board attorney who took part in the negotia-

ETS Rentals Curbed; Zoning Is Amended By Lawrence Council

The Lawrence Township Council adopted a zoning ordinance amendment last week that will prohibit Educational Testing Service from renting out space in its proposed office buildings.

The amendment was adopted last Wednesday by a vote of 4-1, following a public hearing at which ETS representatives sought, through persuasion and parliamentary tactics, to prevent its passage. Councilman Joseph Teti cast the dissenting vote. The decision was greeted by applause by residents who attended the hearing.

ETS is seeking permission to add 447,000 square feet of office space to its existing 549,000-square-foot campus on Rosedale Road. It also wants to add 65,000 square feet to its conference center.

Four office buildings are planned. ETS official have said the firm would use the first two buildings, consisting of about 200,000 square feet, to consolidate on the campus activities currently being caring would not include relocated municipal offices, as was once proposed. Mr. Ford suggests that further study be made of the Valley Road building, which is owned by the Board of Education and rented to the Township for municipal offices. He suggests four phases: the firehouse, for which there is some urgency; the 198-space parking lot behind; the new police building; and if necessary, a two level parking structure where the present police building is located.

The advantages of the plan are several, in Mr. Ford's view. "You can have a firehouse instantly," he remarked. As soon as the plan is approved, an architect can be selected. Mark Freda told Committee he would like to see ground broken in the spring, and the fire trucks "hacking into their new home" next fall.

Mr. Ford also thinks that architecturally the plan would create "the strong municipal center that Princeton has lacked." As he has drawn them, the proposed firehouse and the proposed police department are of similar design, with the small tower for air-drying of fire hoses shown on the fire department echoed in a clock tower on the police building.

He thinks the two new buildings can be integrated with the Valley Road building as the third point in a triangular complex. Township Committee voted unanimously to endorse the firehouse part of the plan, which has also been endorsed by a subcommittee of the Planning Board.

ried out in Ewing and in Pennsylvania. Space in the other two buildings would be rented out until such time as ETS needs it for its own use.

Neighbors are opposed to the planned expansion because of the traffic it would generate, and say that traffic management techniques could not be implemented if the space is rented out to other companies. They also point out that the educational testing and research organization had been allowed to locate in a residential zone in the understanding that the facility would be used only by ETS.

The amendment adopted last week clarifies the language in the zoning ordinance by substituting the words "educational or research institutions" for "research complex." The Lawrence Township Council did not adopt a resolution making the amendment effective immediately instead of 20 days after adoption, as was proposed when the measure was proposed in July.

At the time, ETS officials offered to grant the Planning Board an additional time extension in which to hear the site plan application on the condition that this amendment not be adopted. It was agreed to schedule a work session on traffic problems in September.

That work session, which had been set for Tuesday, September 29, has now been cancelled. According to Planning Board Chairman Joyce Copleman, the traffic issues will be discussed in the context of the site plan hearing, which is tentatively set for Monday, October 12. The Planning Board has until October 15 to hear the application before it becomes automatically approved.

Opening Expected Soon For University Building

171 Broadmead, owned by Princeton University and home to the University League nursery school and the University-N.O.W. day nursery, has been closed because of an asbestos problem. The University hopes the problem will be corrected this week so that the two schools can be in operation on Monday.

This summer, the University, anticipating that the installation of new sprinklers would disturb the asbestos coating the pipes, decided to remove the asbestos completely. After this was done, and the clean-up process begun, one room continued to show higher than desirable asbestos counts.

Because of the situation, the University League Nursery School has delayed its opening, while the University N.O.W. day nursery has been meeting temporarily in Lawrenceville.

Fire Departments and Rescue Squad Sound the Alarm: If Recruits Are Not Found, Paid Employees Must Be Hired

If new members cannot be enlisted to join the three fire companies and the First Aid and Rescue Squad, these volunteer organizations may have to resort to hiring municipally paid employees.

This is the message behind the recruitment effort currently under way to persuade new members to become volunteer firefighters and emergency medical technicians. This Saturday, all the fire and emergency rescue vehicles will be on display at the Community Park pool parking lot. The public and potential volunteers will have a chance to look over the equipment from 10 to 3 and talk to firefighters and rescue squad personnel about the work they do on behalf of the community.

Judging for the annually-awarded trophy for the best looking, best maintained equipment will also begin at 10 with fire chiefs from fire companies in surrounding municipalities acting as judges. At 5, the three fire companies and the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad will take part in the annual Firemen's Inspection Parade.

According to Fire Chief Ken Rendall Jr., each of Princeton's three fire companies is looking for 12 new recruits, or 36 total. The fire department has some 120 members, of which 30-50 are working toward the recently enacted state pension for which a firefighter is eligible after seven years of continuous service. The remaining volunteers, some of whom have served from 10 to 40 years, are now no longer as active.

Same Men Every Time. "The core group that responds to a high volume of calls is shrinking," Mr. Rendall says. "It's the same men riding the trucks every time."

He adds: "I don't think the town is aware that the fire department and the first aid squad are composed of volunteers. I think people think these are municipal services. If we have to go to a paid fire department, it is going to cost the community mega-bucks."

Mr. Rendall puts that cost at $1.6 million to $2 million, which could raise taxes in each municipality substantially. In the Borough, for instance, every $35,000 to be raised by taxes equals a single tax point. The estimated cost for a municipally funded first aid and rescue squad is $200,000.

Mr. Rendall says the fire department won't close down if 36 new members are not found, but he foresees more and more problems in answering calls. The answer may be to have paid drivers, the route taken by area municipalities which get more than 300 calls a year. Calls for the Princeton Fire Department are currently running at about 250 a year.

Squad Burn-out. But Mr. Rendall thinks having paid drivers would also cause problems. "I'd want to see our own men get the spots," he says. The position of driver might be a civil service post, and drivers might not also be firefighters, he thinks.

Burn-out and a lack of new recruits are also affecting the First Aid and Rescue Squad. Several years ago the Squad was having such a difficult time getting enough volunteers to answer daytime calls that it appealed to the municipalities for help. The result was the employment of two paid paramedics — presently emergency medical technicians — at a cost of $45,000 shared by the two municipalities.

According to David Cromwell, Squad president and a member of the Township Police Department, the Squad presently numbers 35, including exempt members who have social privileges, but who are not required to sleep in. Because of this requirement, Ptl. Cromwell believes "Our response time is second to none."

But he adds, "Because of the nature of the work, not many people can handle it. Members get burned out after a while. We see so much." Asked how many new members the Squad is looking for, Ptl. Cromwell says, "We'll take as many as we can get."

Interruption to Work. Both men think that it is becoming more difficult for employees and employers alike to let people off in the middle of a working day to answer an emergency call. Princeton University pre-medical students have made up one-third of the Squad, but as Fireman Mark Freda, Borough Fire Commissioner and former president of the Squad, notes, "They usually start in sophomore year. It takes until junior year until they are useful, and then they're gone."

Mr. Freda says the incentive for a volunteer lies in the "satisfaction you get from helping your neighbors and friends. It's very gratifying." He says it is also "a matter of pride in your community."

One source of potential squad volunteers has been the person who takes a first aid course with an eye to knowing what to do in a family emergency and becomes "hooked" on learning more about life saving techniques and applying them.

The main requirement for a volunteer firefighter and rescue squad member is commitment. Township Committeeman and Fire Commissioner Tom Poole, who convened a press conference to call attention to the problem, puts it this way: "You have to want to do it."

Firemen have to be between age 18 and 40 and have a doctor's certificate they are physically fit. They have to be aware that training is involved, and that there will be certain firehouse duties and meetings in addition to answering fire calls. Women are not precluded, and in fact there are currently 11 women on the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad and one who is a member of Hook & Ladder Company.

Squad members must agree to sleep at the Squad house a certain number of nights a week and also weekends on a rotating basis. They have to have first aid and CPR and are encouraged to participate in further training for emergency medical technician certification. There are also 12 drills a year.

Satisfying Work. But the rewards, according to those who have served, are many and deeply satisfying. Ptl. Cromwell describes the letters he gets from people he has helped as "heartwarming. I still get Christmas cards from the mothers of the two babies I delivered," he says.

Mr. Freda speaks of the experience of resuscitating an individual who has suffered cardiac arrest. "You can be at the hospital afterward, and that person can be talking to you. A little while earlier that person was dead, or close to it."

Mr. Rendall says that, on leaving a home after putting out a fire in a waste basket — keeping the fire contained so that it did not do more damage — he knows he has made a difference in someone's life.

The Fire Department and First Aid Squad have set up a special telephone number for prospective volunteers. The number is 683-8896.

FINISHED AT LAST: Princeton Junction railroad station is complete after two and a half years of construction and delays.

muters. According to N.J. Transit officials, the Transit Authority is currently negotiating to lease the space to either West Windsor Township or the West Windsor Parking Authority, which will then sublease the space to a vendor. In the meantime, the food trucks still do a brisk business selling coffee and food during morning rush hours.

Across the tracks from the station house, there is no longer a waiting room for passengers bound for Trenton and beyond, although the platform is covered and seating is available. Nearby on the new Dinky platform, a miniature version of the station house offers indoor seating for passengers making the Dinky connection during the hours when the station house is open.

On both sides of the main tracks, covered ramps carry crowds to the two tunnels connecting the station platforms. The old dungeon-like dripping concrete tunnel has been completely renovated and a larger, newly excavated tunnel sits close to the station house. The new tunnel is wide enough to carry crowds walking four or five abreast. Lined in tile with a neat dry ceiling which appears to be covered with vinyl house siding, the new tunnel seems to have been flood-proofed. Gone is the old system of two drainage ditches paralleling the walkway through the tunnel.

A Long Time Coming. The sleek new station was a long time coming. Commuters who spend well over three hours of each workday traveling were inconvenienced by mud, construction debris, closed parking lots, bad lighting, windy, wet and unprotected platforms, and long hikes between platforms during the lengthy construction process which began in January, 1985.

In March, the months of extensive delays were finally called intolerable by the Transit Authority. Somers Construction Company, the contractor on the project, was fired and the process of finding a new contractor to complete the project was begun. Hahr Construction of Plainfield was awarded the contract for completion of the station and given 90 days to finish the still-unrenovated tunnel, incomplete station buildings, platforms, ramps and stairways. The deadline for final completion of construction was set for the end of September and appears to have been met.

Once the landscaping and site clean-up are complete, the final step in the renovation process will be to eliminate the temporary daily parking lot off of Vaughn Drive. The dirt and gravel lot was created during the renovation to accommodate cars displaced from lots by construction and lot-repaving. When all of the lots were reopened, the temporary lot still filled up to capacity during rush hour and was never closed down.

According to Sandra Check, Community Relations Representative from New Jersey Transit, an agreement with West Windsor Township requires the Transit Authority to close the temporary lot as soon as alternative parking is found. Negotiations with West Windsor to pave the gravel lot may offer an alternative to closing it. The Transit Authority is also negotiating with a local developer for additional parking.

West Windsor Parking Authority or the Township itself will eventually administer the entire station complex. West Windsor Township has consistently taken a hard line against the development of additional parking at the station, despite the explosive development of office complexes and housing projects in the once rural area. Presently the Township has a lot for its own residents.

Through the Parking Authority, it also administers the permit lots, which accommodate 600 cars, and the 100 parking meters on Vaughn Drive. Maiden Lane Parking will continue to administer New Jersey Transit's daily lots until negotiations with West Windsor are complete and the Township or Parking Authority assumes control. The entire package in negotiation includes control of the station buildings and the parking lot system.

Long Waiting List. Parking is increasingly difficult at the station. A year and a half ago there were 1,000 names on the waiting list for permit parking. Today there are 1,600 names. Daily lots are often full before rush hour is over. According to John McMenamin of the West Windsor Parking Authority, the Authority hopes to improve and convert the temporary Vaughn Drive lot and part of the Station Drive lot to permit parking. New Jersey Transit prefers to maintain the maximum amount of daily parking available to accommodate the infrequent traveler, said Mrs. Check; perhaps a moot point when daily lots are full before rush hour is over.

If West Windsor Parking Authority gets approval to increase permit parking by 700 spaces, a figure that has been under discussion but would not be confirmed by Mr. McMenamin, some middle-aged commuters will reach retirement before winning a parking place. Parking Authority officials report that turn-over frees about 20-25 parking spots each quarter. At this rate, assuming that 700 daily spots are converted to monthly, a commuter who adds his name to the waiting list tomorrow should have a parking spot by 1996.

If the parking is left as is, that same commuter wouldn't have a parking space until 2002. In the meantime, he will be competing for a reduced number of parking spaces with an increasing number of commuters who were attracted to the area by new housing developments and the "easy" New York City commute.

There is some relief expected. Last week, New Jersey Transit, South Brunswick Township, and three developers came to an agreement which will result in the opening of a station in South Brunswick, located off Route 522 near Deans Pond Road. While New Jersey Transit had been negotiating to open the station for more than a year, the project was delayed until funding for the necessary access roads was in place. A four-lane road running through Princeton Park from Route One and a re-aligned Route 522 will service the station.

Reider Land Technologies, the Cavendish Corporation, and South Ridge Development agreed to contribute the remaining $3 million needed to fund the $23 million road project. The land for the station and most of the cost of construction were pledged by the Seltzer Organization which owned Princeton Park before selling it to Reider. Details of transferring this obligation will be finalized and agreements with the developers must be signed before construction begins.

According to acting South Brunswick Township Administrator Ann Marie Kelly, construction will take about two years. As a regional station, this should provide some relief at the Junction, although growth in the area may quickly surpass the station's capacity. South Brunswick alone, which currently has a population of 23,000, expects to grow to 38,000-40,000 by the year 2000.

Two and one-half years of construction are finally drawing to a close at Princeton Junction, but the experience hasn't ended for New York City commuters. At the other end of the line, Penn Station in New York is currently under renovation. Temporary barricades force crowds to re-route through narrow spaces; the southwest building entrance has been closed for months; and the main level and the thoroughfare above the tracks are in a state of controlled chaos. It's just more of the same for Princeton Junction commuters, caught up in Central New Jersey's tidal wave of population growth.

High School Enrollment 50 More Than Expected

For the past year, Princeton Regional school officials have been speaking of a high school enrollment of about 800 students. This would be down from 900 last year, and 1000 the year before, and would be certain proof of a shrinking high school.

But it hasn't happened — at least not quite that way. While enrollment is down from last year, it is 50 more than had been expected — and probably still rising. Numbers also appear to be heading away from the projections in the 1983 "Long Range Plan," which predicted 632 students in the high school in 1990.

Principal John Sakala is talking less now about how to deal with a "shrinking" high school, and more about planning for a "better-performing school, no matter what the size.

"I think enrollment will go up even more," he said, "with folks coming back to town." He noted there were 107 new students at the school. Among these, 38 are from abroad and 27 from private schools. Approximately 32 tuition students are enrolled, each paying $5200. This compares, for example, with an annual tuition of $7,650 at the upper school at Princeton Day School.

Several tuition students are from Cranbury, having been

Board of Education Seeks Applicants; Woodbridge Replacement Is Needed

After almost five years of service on the Princeton Regional Board of Education, Karen Woodbridge announced her intention to resign because she and her family will be relocating to Princeton Township.

The Board is seeking candidates to consider in appointing a successor who will serve until the Organization Meeting of April 12, 1988. A candidate must be 18 years of age, a resident of Princeton Borough for at least one year, and a registered voter.

Written recommendations or applications should be sent to Dr. Judith A. Ferguson, secretary to the Board, Valley Road Building, Valley Road and Witherspoon Street, Princeton, N.J. 08540. The names will be publicly announced, and all candidates will have an opportunity to be interviewed by the Board at a public meeting. The Board will discuss the candidates in a closed meeting before making a formal appointment.

Applications must be received at the Valley Road Building no later than 4 p.m. on Friday, October 16. The public interviews will be held on October 20 at 8 p.m. in the Valley Road Meeting Room. An appointment by October 27 is anticipated.

sent by parents a year ahead of the phase-in of Cranbury students that will begin in 1988.

Among the future programs envisioned by Mr. Sakala, and discussed at a planning meeting of the School Board last week, are addressing the needs of specific populations, such as black students and those returning from rehabilitation; developing a more comprehensive remedial program; maintaining the traditional curriculum, including advanced placement and accelerated programs; expanding the Learning in the Community model; offering under-enrolled courses, such as Italian and German, in alternating two-year sequences, and integrating the creative arts.

Mr. Sakala also stressed the concept of serving the student by knowing the student. To this end, he plans to institute a faculty adviser program where each faculty member will act as a student's sponsor for all four years. This program was in place in Rockport High School in Rockport, Mass., while he was principal, and, says Mr. Sakala, it worked very well.

The high school has hired a director of guidance, Greg Youngman, to oversee this program as well as manage the department and implement other programs to improve the guidance operation.

Mr. Youngman, who was formerly a cadet counselor at West Point, is hoping to develop a more effective college placement program, both from the students' and parents' viewpoint. "We will try to work with students much earlier to help them reach a decision on college," he says.

He would also like to see the guidance department active in other areas of concern to students, such as issues of attendance and of motivation.

"I also want us to be able to respond better to the needs of working parents and single parents," he said, "and improve relations with the community.

Two-hour Parking Ban Asked on Birch Avenue

Township Committee has asked its attorney to draw up an ordinance which would ban parking on Birch Avenue on Wednesday mornings from 9 to 11.

The purpose of the measure is to allow the street to be cleaned more efficiently than is presently possible. Reporting to Township Committee on a variety of street matters, Sgt. Mario Musso of the Township Police Department, who heads the Traffic Safety Committee, said that residents had complained about the condition of the street. This ban, he said, was designed to cause the least disturbance to residents and to allow the Public Works Department a time, during which there are no cars parked along the curbs, to clean the street each week.

Another effect of the ban would be to get those who live on streets where overnight parking is restricted to move the cars they have left on Birch where there have been no restrictions. This might free additional spaces for those Birch Avenue residents who do not have driveways, it was said.

Reporting on other matters related to traffic control, Sgt. Musso told Committee that Princeton Township is the only municipality state-wide in which the speed limits and signage on all streets are state-approved. Sgt. Musso said that in 1984, when he became traffic safety officer, he discovered that a majority of Township roads were not state-approved, which made it difficult for the municipality to enforce speed limits.

He requested a survey by the Department of Transportation, which was undertaken. "We were lacking in speed limit signs and other advisory signs which are required," Sgt. Musso remarked. "The state not only tells you what the speed limit should be, but also where you have to have signs and just where they are to be located."

This is also true for advisory signs, such as curve warnings, he said. Mayor Gail Firestone reported receiving complaints from residents who felt that traffic signs had proliferated and the striping of certain streets was not in keeping with the rural character of the roads.

There was discussion, too, of enforcement of weight limits on the smaller bridges and culverts in the Township. A new sign has been placed on

Changes in the Works

If you can't tell the players without a score card, you must be in Princeton.

While Election Day is the usual time for a possible change in public officials, things are a little different this year. Two members of Borough Council are expected to resign shortly before Election Day, to be replaced by appointees.

The two, Irven Urken and Richard Woodbridge, plan to move to the Township. Neither was up for election this November.

Meanwhile, in the Township, Mayor Firestone's announcement last week that she would not run in November will remove her from Township government. Toms Royal was selected to replace her in the race for Township Committee.

There will be new faces, too, on the Princeton Regional School Board. Hugh Brandt recently resigned from his Township seat, and a replacement will be appointed by the Board on October 27.

Also, Borough representative Karen Woodbridge is expected to leave the Board as soon as the Woodbridges move to their new home in the Township, paving the way for another appointment.

While all these musical chairs are going on, there are also elections scheduled in both Borough and Township, opening up the possibility of yet more new faces.

Incumbent Barbara Sigmond faces Rodney Fisk in the race for Borough mayor, while Democratic Council members Marvin Reed and Mildred Trotman will run against Republicans Stephen Balch and Thomas Meehan.

In the Township, Republicans Thomas Poole and Toms Royal will face Democrats Kate Litvack and Bill Potter (the latter having replaced Jay Bleiman on the ballot when Mr. Bleiman bowed out of the race.)

The Great Road limiting the weight to 15 tons across the Mountain Brook bridge. Sgt. Musso said an empty truck would pass this test, but not a loaded one. He said truck drivers en route to a new development north of Stuart Road are being told to use other routes to the job site, or to use smaller trucks.

V. Kiser reported that the County hopes to assign weight limits to each of the small bridges and culverts in the Township, but presently does not have the manpower in its public works department to make the necessary inspections.

Committee adopted a resolution asking that the traffic light installed on a temporary basis at River Road and Route 27 be made permanent even after the Route 518-Washington Road bridge is re-opened in Rocky Hill. The traffic light was installed on a temporary basis when the bridge was closed for repairs, and the Township Engineer and the traffic safety officer both feel that there is sufficient volume of traffic to warrant its continuance.

430-Acre Office Complex Is Proposed in Hopewell

The Bristol-Myers pharmaceutical company has unveiled plans for an office-research complex on 430 acres it has owned for 30 years in Hopewell Township.

The conceptual plans show some three dozen buildings totaling 2.64 million square feet. The tract is bounded by I-95, Scotch Road, Pennington-Washington Crossing Road and the railroad track, and is diagonally across from the Hopewell Township municipal building.

The parcel was acquired by Bristol-Myers in 1955 as a long-term investment, according to Eugene Biddle, a partner in Sweet Associates, the real estate advisory firm that developed and manages Princeton Forrestal Center and is representing the Bristol-Myers real estate interests. Appearing before the Township's Application Review Committee last week, Mr. Biddle said the pharmaceutical company has no plans to occupy the space itself and is looking for a lead occupant for what he described as high-quality, prestigious office and research buildings.

The tract is located in the Hopewell Township Industrial Office Park-Growth zone in which the permitted floor-area ratio is two percent. This would allow almost four million square feet of office space. Roger Wells, the Claddonfield planner who prepared the tentative site layout, pointed out that a lower density is being proposed than is allowed

The buildings would be erected in phases over 25 years. The plans also call for a small restaurant and shopping complex for the project. Approval of this complex would require a "modification" of the present zoning, according to Mr. Biddle.

A traffic study is under way, and water and sewer arrangements have yet to be made. The initial reaction of the ARC was favorable, according to Mr. Biddle, but the Bristol-Myers development team has asked for additional time to make its full presentation. The request was granted, and the project will be added to the agenda of the next ARC meeting on Tuesday, October 13.

Center of apparently self-inflicted knife wounds to the abdomen and chest is continuing.

The investigation of the death of Lawrence D. Myers, who lived in a Harrison Street apartment, is being led by Det. David A. Funk of the Township police and the Mercer County Prosecutor's Office.

"Where it stands now," said Township Chief Jack Petrone Tuesday, "is the determination into the cause of the death of Mr. Myers is pending an investigation by police with the aid of doctors into the psychological background of the victim." He declined to say anything more.

Lt. Samuel Bianco of the Township police, who is also participating in the investigation, reported that police are interviewing friends and family members in their search for answers. There was no evidence, he said, of a robbery or a burglary in the victim's apartment. No suicide note was found.

An autopsy conducted Friday by Mercer County Medical Examiner Rafaat Ahmad supported the initial finding that Mr. Myers had most likely stabbed himself, said Mercer County Prosecutor Paul Koenig. The release of the examiner's report is expected next week.

Mr. Myers, a philosophy major, was found last Wednesday afternoon around 4:30 fully clothed in bed by a roommate who had planned to go to dinner with the victim. He was unconscious and bleeding profusely. A four-inch steak knife was later recovered by police in the victim's apartment.

The roommate called police and the victim was transported by the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad to the Medical Center shortly before 5. At the hospital, Mr. Myers was revived by open chest resuscitation and underwent surgery for a lacerated heart. He died about 1:30 Thursday morning.

A native of Omaha, Neb., where he was a graduate of Westside High School, Mr. Myers was co-captain of the Princeton University junior tennis team.

He is survived by his parents, Larry and Mariana Myers and a brother, Andrew.

Sergeant Musso, Detective Clausen Promoted

In promotions recommended by the Police Selection Committee and approved Monday night by Township Committee, Sergeant Mario A. Musso has been promoted to Lieutenant and Detective John H. Clausen, Jr., to Sergeant. The promotions, effective October 1, were announced by Chief Jack Petrone.

Lieutenant Musso joined the department in March, 1967. In 1982, he was assigned to the Traffic Bureau as the Township's Traffic Safety Officer, and in May, 1983 he was promoted to Sergeant.

Sergeant Clausen joined the department in November, 1973, and was assigned to the Detective Bureau last January.

Chief Petrone said that examinations and interviews are still in progress for the promotion of a new captain.

On September 16, an entry-level, written examination conducted by the N.J. Chiefs of Police Association was given at Princeton High School. Capt. Petrone reported that, of the 74 applicants who signed up, 45, including three women, actually took the test. Phase 2 in the search for a new patrolman, a physical examination, will be held in mid-October, the Chief said.

"We're making progress toward getting a new police officer to fill the vacancy created by the retirement of Chief Pinelli."

$111.59 from the Super Fresh Market. When an employee, police said, saw Banks place the meat in a plastic bag and leave the store by way of an unattended checkout counter, he notified the manager.

The manager followed Banks outside the store and confronted her. When she was unable to produce receipts for the meats, he called police. Banks was taken to police headquarters, charged, processed and released. The complaint summons was signed by the store manager.

The previous day, a suspect was observed placing an $88 pair of pants under his belt in Epstein's. When confronted by a store security officer, who followed him outside, the suspect, police said, threw the pants in some bushes and ran.

The suspect is described as an Indian male, about 5-4, 150 pounds, with short, black, wavy hair. He was wearing a blue and white striped shirt.

Two Students Charged With Theft of Carriage

Two 21-year-old students from Rutgers University, Vincent Miele of Marlton and John Scerbo of Morris Plains, have been charged by Borough police with the theft of a horse carriage.

While on patrol around 3 Sunday morning, police noticed two men pulling the carriage up the slight incline of Chapel Drive on the university campus. As the officers approached, the suspects let go and fled, allowing the nine-foot-high carriage to coast backward toward the patrol car on Nassau Street. The officers jumped out and managed to grab and secure the drifting carriage before chasing the suspects. One was apprehended; the second later turned himself in.

Capt. Thomas Michaud reported that the carriage, which had an open front buckboard seat and a closed rear compartment, had been left at Prospect House during the day to be picked up later. It was returned to its owner.

Miele and Scerbo were issued disorderly person summonses and are scheduled to appear November 4 in Borough court.

In one of two thefts reported Sunday, a student's purse was stolen from the Cloister Inn where she had left it on a coat room shelf. Among the items it contained were a small camera, $15 cash and personal articles, worth a combined $140.

A wallet, which another victim had left in her knapsack in a first-floor coat room in Cottage Club, was stolen in the afternoon. She lost $70. In a similar theft earlier in the week, a student's knapsack was removed from an entrance bin at the University Store. It contained books, a calculator, umbrella and other items worth a combined $70. The knapsack was later found, police said, in a garbage can by a worker in the basement of a construction site at the Nassau Presbyterian Church addition. Aside from the umbrella, everything was intact.

A Linden Lane resident reported the theft of her purse from her unlocked car while it was parked last week on Spruce Street near Pine. Taken from the glove compartment, the expensive purse contained $20 and other items on which the victim placed a total value of $570.

Someone stole an entire car. Police report a 1984, two-door Buick, valued at $6,000, was stolen overnight last week from the lot behind the Nassau Broadcasting Co. building 221 Witherspoon Street. The car is owned by Nassau Broadcasting. Police add it has not been determined if the car was locked or not.

Three more bicycles were stolen in the Borough. A 12-speed Peugeot model valued at $550, locked to itself, was taken from a stairwell in Witherspoon Hall, and a 12-speed Univega valued at $120, also locked to itself, was removed from Dodge-Osborn Hall. Both victims are university students.

A student's $150 Peugeot bike, locked to a rack on the west side of Princeton High School, was stolen Friday between 3 and 8 p.m.

Township police report the theft last week of three $20 bills from a cash register at Clancy Paul in the Princeton Shopping Center. The store manager told police the theft was discovered after checking receipts.

Dorm Entries Reported; The Students Are Back

A number of entries into student dormitory rooms on the university campus last week, were reported by Borough police.

A student's room in Laughlin Hall, entered sometime Friday, yielded a cassette recorder valued at $125. Capt. Thomas Michaud commented that, since all the doors and windows were unlocked, the actual point of entry is not known.

In one of three entries reported on Sunday, a coed's room in Lockhart Hall was entered through an unlocked window. Missing are an AM-FM cassette radio and $15 from a desk.

Between 7 and 9:45, someone cut a screen off a ground-floor window at Forbes College, reached in, and pushed up an unlocked interior window to gain access. Once inside, the intruder took a $265 stereo system.

While a social function was in progress at the Quadrangle Club, someone — between 2 and 7 in the morning — removed two large, red sofas and three empty beer kegs from inside. There were no signs of forced entry.

Earlier in the week, a purse containing $76 and $100 in personal items was taken from a suite in 1901 Hall. Entry was gained through a first-floor living room window.

Police report that the theft was discovered when the victim was notified by the person

AIDS Lecture Planned

"What Everybody, But Everybody, Should Know About AIDS," a lecture open to the public, will be presented by Dr. Brian G. Zack Wednesday, September 30, at 7:30 in the Dodd Auditorium of the Woodrow Wilson School, Princeton University. A question and answer session will follow.

AIDS, or Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome, has already affected more than 40,000 Americans, over half of whom have died.

According to Dr. Zack, AIDS can strike all segments of the population, regardless of sexual preference or level of sexual activity. Enough is known about this disease to stop its transmission tomorrow, if everyone were properly informed and acted accordingly, he says.

Unfortunately, misinformation about AIDS and its modes of transmission continues to allow it to spread, as well as to result in unjustifiable discrimination against victims of the disease.

Dr. Zack will present a broad overview of AIDS. Particular stress will be given to modes of transmission and recommended precautions to prevent its spread. "Education is the key to the prevention of this disease," states Dr. Zack, the director of sexual health services at Princeton University, "as well as to the prevention of irresponsible discrimination against its victims."

All are welcome to attend the lecture.

who found the purse the next morning lying in the back yard of a Dickinson Street home. The $15 purse and the personal items were returned to the owner but the money, police said, is still missing.

While the resident of a Witherspoon Lane apartment was asleep last week, an intruder knocked in a kitchen window screen, pushed up the window and made off with a stereo system valued at $300, $7 cash and a bank book. Police report the occupant, "never heard a thing." Entry was placed between 10:30 last Wednesday evening and 6 the next morning.

After being away for three hours, the residents of a Hamilton Avenue home returned Saturday evening at 11 to discover that their home had been entered. Missing are a VCR valued at $400 and a jewelry box from a bedroom. Police are still waiting for an inventory of the missing jewelry pieces, but Capt. Michaud placed the loss "in excess of $1,000."

The means of entry was familiar: window screen cut and pane of glass broken to allow the intruder to reach in and unlock the window.

Sighted Purse, Stole Same. When Borough police last week responded to a call from a Stanworth Lane resident who reported hearing screams from a neighbors' home, police found a husband and wife standing outside their apartment.

The victims told police that they were seated at the dinner table around nine in the evening when someone knocked on the door. They went to the door, saw no one and returned to the table. At that point, the victims continued, a black male rushed through a screen door, past the open main door, grabbed a pocketbook lying on a table and fled — while they were still sitting at the table.

Police searched the area but could not find the suspect. He is described as about six feet tall, thin, wearing a tan jacket. Total value of the purse was placed at $138, including $50 cash.

Township police report that a vacant house on Olden Lane, owned by the Institute for Advanced Study, was entered sometime between September 14 and August 10. The entry was discovered by a housing superintendent.

Police said that drawers were found open and there was other evidence that the interior had been searched. A pane of glass had been removed from a front door to enter the home. A knife used to remove caulking from around the pane was

Rise in Cable Rates Planned for November 1
The basic monthly rate for Princeton's 4,150 cable subscribers will go up to $18.95 on November 1, from its current $15. ComVideo Systems, which acquired the Home Link franchise last fall, announced that the dual cable system will be retained. This means that there will be no reduction in the number of channels. The company had been considering a change to a single cable system. This would have cost $16.45 a month, but would have required dropping ten channels.

Within the past month, ComVideo representatives appeared before Borough Council and Township Committee to explain the single- and dual-cable options. Township Committee voted in favor of the dual system, and members of Borough Council questioned the wisdom of including the only channel offering black programming among those channels to be dropped if a single cable system were instituted. ComVideo also announced the addition of five new channels to basic service, including MSG, offering New York area sports and specials, and FNN, providing financial and sports reports.

The other three will display special vacation offers, designer clothing, and discounted brand-name merchandise.

The Princeton rate is the highest in the central New Jersey area, although it does provide the greatest number of channels.

According to the company, the increased monthly rate is necessary for a profitable operation. Home Link lost $1.9 million in its first two years of operation, and is still operating at a loss.

Driver Charged With DWI After Two-Car Accident

A Trenton resident, Troy A. Love, 22, has been charged with driving while intoxicated by Township police, after he was involved in a hit-and-run accident last week. Love is currently free on $3,500 cash bail set by Judge Sydney Souter, pending his appearance October 13 in Township Court.

While driving last Wednesday evening on John Street, Love's car made a wide swing out of John into the wrong lane of Birch Avenue, where it struck a car coming in the opposite direction. The mishap was witnessed by Ptl. David Leiggi who was patrolling in the area.

The Love car continued on and ended up in a nearby Community Park parking lot near the softball fields, where Mr. Love was given balance and coordination tests at the scene by Ptl. Leiggi. After the officer determined the driver was under the influence of alcohol, Love was taken to police headquarters and given a Breathalyzer test that produced a reading of .12.

In addition to driving while intoxicated, Love was also charged with seven other offenses: driving while on a revoked list, reckless driving, leaving the scene of an accident, failure to keep right, unregistered vehicle, no driver's license in possession and unlicensed driver.

Costly Carburetor Fire Causes $20,000 Car Loss

An engine fire in a 1983 Jeep Wagoneer last week proved to be costly to its Castle Howard Court owner.

According to police, the driver had parked his car last Wednesday afternoon around 12:30 in Lot 6 on the university campus not far from Baker Rink. He told police later that he did not notice anything unusual other than a slight odor of burning oil which he thought was normal.

That odor was the beginning of a carburetor fire in the engine compartment. Flames spread throughout the engine compartment into the interior of the car, causing an estimated $20,000 in damage.

By the time Ptl. John Buszko responded to a 12:39 call, Princeton firemen had extinguished the blaze. Fire Chief Ken Rendall confirmed the fire had started in the carburetor, which the victim reported had been rebuilt about a month earlier.

Nine People Are Fined In Borough Traffic Court

Among nine Princeton area residents fined Monday in Borough traffic court is James K. Hultgren of 76 Titus Avenue, Lawrenceville. He paid a fine of $615 and lost his license for two years for driving while intoxicated.

Three were fined $60 each for red light violations. They are Robert K. Durkee, 32 Shady

Sewage Treatment Plant Best Operated in State

To the Editor of Town Topics: This is in reference to statements made about the Stony Brook Regional Sewerage Authority in Judith H. Alpert's letter to the editor which appeared in the September 9 issue of TOWN TOPICS.

First, the vicinity of the plant is not unhealthy.

Second, the SBRSA, referred to by Mrs. Alpert as the "Sewer Operating Authority" and "Regional Sewer Authority," I am proud to say, is the best operated sewerage treatment works in the state, as will be attested to by NJDEP officials.

Third, no sewage is received by the Authority from communities which are not participants, that is, communities which have a signed service contract with SBRSA.

Fourth, SBRSA, as part of a state-sanctioned program, treats outside sources of sewage and sludge in an environmentally sound manner. This service brings a significant amount of revenue to the Authority and this revenue offsets sewage treatment costs.

In addition to the above, the Authority has spent approximately $1,000,000 on odor control and will spend another $1,500,000 on odor control by next year. We are fully committed to solving this problem, and I have 100% confidence in my staff and board that we will.

I thank you for the opportunity of clarifying this matter.
MICHAEL A. DIMINO, P.E.
Executive Director

Access Via Church Lot Would Create Problems

To the Editor of Town Topics:

This letter is in regard to the 20 units of low-cost rental housing the Housing Authority of Princeton is proposing. There have been implications in your paper and at Township meetings that the Unitarian Church of Princeton is being unnecessarily difficult in not granting the sale of, or giving an easement for, a roadway through our property as an access to the four acres abutting the church on Route 206. This letter is to state the reasons the Board of Trustees of the Unitarian Church disapproved of this roadway.

We do not have unused land. Our building is already built to the maximum space allowed for our size of lot.

The access the Housing Authority of Princeton is proposing is through our parking lot. This parking lot is already heavily used not only on Sundays and for church events, but also during the week for community activities we support, such as Forum for Singles, Alcoholics Anonymous, Musical Amateurs, Holistic Health, Metropolitan Community Church, Gay People of Princeton, Princeton School for Exceptional Children, Cherry Hill Nursery School, etc.

The parking lot sometimes overflows to the Township parking lot on 206. This easement and public road through our church home would mean loss of control of our parking lot, loss of the church atmosphere of our grounds, a safety hazard to our small children, and possible added insurance and security costs.

Our church has a reputation in this community for supporting many social concerns, and we continue to do so. We do support building the 20 units of low-cost rental housing on the property next to us, if the Housing Authority can overcome the problems with access off 206, which is available to them.

Further, we encourage and support the Housing Authority of Princeton, the Princeton Borough, and the Princeton Township in their joint efforts in establishing low-cost rental housing near means of transportation, shopping and employment at locations throughout this community. This kind of housing will not only meet the needs of lower-income families, but will enable them to be an asset and integral part of the community by their contributions through working and living locally.

ELAINE NIGAM
President,
Unitarian Church of Princeton

Quality of Life Reflected In Stolen Parking Sticker

To the Editor, Town Topics: My new "Dinky" parking sticker was stolen last week, less than 10 days after it became effective.

Obviously as an event this is hardly earthshaking. However, as a long-time Princeton resident I would like to make two observations: first, parking space appears to have reached a level of value justifying larceny, in itself a rather sad state of affairs; and second, many of the people in and around Princeton today appear to be without an ethical standard on which to judge such larcenous behavior.

Sometimes it is small symbolic events that help us to focus on larger issues. I would submit that the "quality of life in Princeton" has already changed!

thanks to Larry Ivan, Tom Breihaupt and Jack Roberts for making room in the pool so that we, too, could have a cool swim.

Moreover, many thanks go to all those very cooperative parents and youngsters who did not swim in the specially designated enclosed area during the evening swim sessions.

I was particularly touched to see how quickly the young people at the Community Park Pool responded to the call to move from the area which was roped off for us. Often we read and/or hear too much about young people, particularly teenagers, who disrupt the peace and quiet of their communities. It was a great pleasure to see a positive side of our youth, and I am happy to report it.

As for the other group swims and the Sunday swim at the Princeton YWCA, an expression of gratitude goes to those who made an effort to help out. We appreciate the efforts involved to open the pool and provide the pool staff so that people who would otherwise never get to swim could do so. And let's not forget those giving people who helped to transport the members of our group.

The generosity and consideration involved here is indeed beautiful. This summer has been more enjoyable for the disabled thanks to the Community Park Pool staff and the people of Princeton.

Young Soccer Players Enjoyed Visit Here

To the Editor of Town Topics: Last week the Princeton Soccer Association hosted a 21-member delegation of 10-year-old soccer players, coaches and journalists from Princeton's sister city, Colmar, France. Princetonians opened their hearts and homes to our young visitors and showed them the time of their lives. They were escorted to the U.N., the Empire State Building, the Statue of Liberty, Sesame Place and Independence Hall, as well as the local Princeton sites. In return, the French boys taught our boys much of French culture and the wonderful game of soccer.

The Princeton Soccer Association wishes to thank all of those who helped make the week an outstanding success. Special thanks go to A-1 Limousine for transporting the French for a week and to World Cup Soccer, Trophy Shack, Davidson's and Varsity Liquor for their contributions.

Heart Agency to Benefit From Nautilus Program

The Princeton Nautilus Fitness Center will sponsor its 5th annual ExerDance for Heart on Saturday from 11 to 3 at the Princeton Shopping Center Commons. Proceeds will benefit the American Heart Association.

This year's goal is $10,000, according to Nautilus owner Anne Knudson-Fitzpatrick. "This is not," says Mrs. Knudson-Fitzpatrick, "just another recreational dance event."

ExerDance sessions will begin every hour with 15-minute intervals. Participants may be sponsored by individual or corporate donations in the amounts of $15, $25, $50 or more, for all or part of the four hours.

Sign up sheets and sponsor forms are available at the Princeton Nautilus Fitness Center in the Princeton Shopping Center. Donations should be collected before Saturday and handed in prior to the event.

United Way Campaign Kicking Off October 1

The United Way-Red Cross campaign of the Greater Princeton Area will officially kick off on October 1 when more than 300 United Way volunteers will gather at the Hyatt Regency-Princeton, according to campaign chairman John Baker. Even though this is the official kick-off, the audience will hear campaign results from seven area companies whose drives will have been completed before the luncheon.

These companies, known as the Paacesetters, are conducting their campaigns now in order to serve as models for other area organizations. They are American Cyanamid Company (Agricultural Research Division), Center for Health Affairs, FMC Corporation, Gallup & Robinson, Johnson & Higgins, Squibb Corporation, and Total Research Corporation.

This year's campaign will attempt to raise $2,250,000 on behalf of 28 local human care agencies. A successful campaign will also allow the United Way to continue innovative programming, such as offering special venture grants to local organizations that are designed to address emerging and unmet community needs. Currently six organizations — including three non-United Way ones — are receiving this special funding.

The purpose of the kick-off event is to motivate volunteers and to encourage the beginning of campaigns by area companies. Cost is $14. Anyone interested in attending should call the United Way at 799-6639.

$75,000 Grant to Hun To Support Science Center

The Hun School has received a grant of $75,000 from the Merrill Lynch & Co. Foundation to support the school's Michael D. Dingman Center for Science and Technology.

Included in the Dingman Center are math, science and computer classrooms; physical, biological and computer

Back-to-School Nights

Princeton High School will hold its annual Back-to-School Night on Wednesday, September 30, at 7:30.

Back-to-School nights are planned at Riverside and Community Park Schools on Wednesday, October 7. Times have not yet been set.

laboratories; project areas for independent study; a temperature-controlled wet lab with salt and fresh water aquaria for the study of marine life; a greenhouse and conference room.

The new facilities will make possible the introduction of a variety of mini-courses as well as computer-assisted research and tutorial work in every discipline — in the humanities as well as in the sciences.

Students of history, language, and English will be able to use word-processing software and conduct data base research, while students of the fine arts will benefit from tutorial equipment for ear training and musical theory, in addition to sketching and computer-based design software for art and mechanical drawing.

Reading Clinic Testing Offered at Rider College

The Rider College Reading/Language Arts Clinic is accepting registration for diagnostic services starting October 5. The eight-week program runs until December 3. These services are designed to assess reading, writing, listening and speaking abilities of youngsters ages 6 to 12.

After diagnosis is completed, instructional procedures will be prescribed. The program is under the direction of Dr. Susan M. Glazer and involves a full battery of testing, including an intelligence test, reading, writing and other instruments to assess abilities.

This program is recommended for children who seem to be achieving at levels below their acknowledged potential and is also recommended for average readers.

Eight sessions, which include instruction and testing in reading and writing, will be held. Children will meet with teachers twice a week for a two-hour period by arrangement, after school on Tuesday, Wednesday, or Thursday afternoons.

The cost of the diagnostic service is $250. For more information, call Carole Nicolini at 896-computer classrooms; physical, biological and computer

Christmas Boutique Set For October 26, 27, 28

The 24th annual Christmas Boutique, sponsored by The Auxiliary of the Medical Center at Princeton, will take place Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, October 26, 27, and 28. Hours are 10-5:30 on Monday, October, 26; 10-8 on Tuesday, and 10-4 on Wednesday.

The Boutique will be held at the Lavino Field House of The Lawrenceville School. The Boutique logo will mark the entrance.

Co-chairmen for this year's event are Mrs. Donald C. Stuart III (466-2949) and Mrs. Clark G. Travers (924-9146).

There will be 22 exhibitors displaying such gifts as Italian handbags, personalized canvas handbags, handpainted needlepoint canvases, stocking stuffers, and clothing for men, women, and children.

People wishing to browse and shop before Monday morning may do so by attending the Patrons' Party on Sunday, October 25, from 5:30-8:30 p.m. Food will be catered by Jimmy Duffy and Sons, Inc., and there will be special entertainment. Cost is $50 each for sponsors and $35 each for patrons. Arrangements are under the direction of Mrs. Michael V. Dawes and Mrs. Arthur F. Hopper III.

A corporate evening is planned for Tuesday, October 26, from 5 to 8 p.m. Employees of area corporations are invited to shop and enjoy refreshments for the price of admission.

Refreshments, including morning coffee, lunch, and afternoon tea, will be served daily. There will be a silent auction and a raffle, with tickets costing $25 each. The winner of the raffle will have the opportunity to create a $5,000 custom-designed trip to anywhere.

HOLIDAY SPIRIT is in the air as Co-chairmen Mrs. Donald C. Stuart III, left, and Mrs. Clark G. Travers prepare for the annual Christmas Boutique. It will be held in the Lavino Field House at The Lawrenceville School on October 26, 27, and 28, and will feature 22 exhibitors.

Persons may wish to volunteer their time, donate to the Silent Auction, or bake for the Holiday Gourmet.

Among the exhibitors are April 56, gourmet and kitchen treasures; Christmas Shop of Paoli, Christmas decorations; Finitney & Co., small antiques and decorator accents; Tales of the Purple Mouse, children's books and imported toys; John Wetmore, handcrafted jewelry and belts; and Whiffs, wooden yard and home decorations.

Admission to the Christmas Boutique is $3.50. Children age 5-18 will be admitted for one dollar.

Annual Meeting Set By Services Council

The 41st annual meeting of the Princeton Area Council of Community Services will be held on Wednesday, September 30, at noon at the All Saints' Church.

The annual meeting is a once-a-year gathering of the Council's membership: representatives of public and private health, human service, recreational and educational organizations and agencies, and interested community volunteers who have worked with and through the Council over the years to identify and respond to the area's human service needs.

The keynote address will be "Volunteers, Corporations, Non-Profits: Creating New Partnerships to Meet Community Needs." Kelly Law, director of the New Jersey Office on Voluntarism, and Jack Lowenstein, director of administration at the FMC Chemical research and development center in Plainsboro, will be featured speakers.

Ms. Law will speak on the importance of voluntarism to the community and on state initiatives to support and encourage voluntarism. Mr. Lowenstein will discuss the corporate role in addressing community needs and how corporate decisions on community involvement are made.

The Council's annual meeting will also include the presentation of the 1987 Citation for Distinguished Volunteer Service. Each year the Council honors an individual who has made an outstanding contribution as a volunteer leader with non-profit organizations that serve communities in the greater Princeton area.

Following the award ceremony, the annual election of directors and officers will be held.

The Council of Community Services is a non-profit human services planning organization serving 13 communities in Mercer, Middlesex and Somerset counties. The Council is funded by the United Way-Princeton Area Communities and acts as its planning associate.

The public is invited to attend the meeting. For further information, or to make reservations, call 924-5865 or 799-6033.

tions, the judge will probably appoint a "master" to review the affordable housing program. That review could take several months, but Mr. Muller thinks the judge could reach a decision by the end of the year.

Margen Penick, vice-chairman of the Planning Board, and Tom Poole, a Township Committeeman and Committee representative to the Planning Board, are co-chairing the hearings, which will be continued this coming Tuesday, and also on Wednesday, September 30 if necessary. Mrs. Penick and Mr. Poole took part in the negotiations with Calton Homes.

Stormy Meetings. If the hearing following the announcement last December of a proposed settlement agreement is any indication, these hearings are likely to be just as well-attended and stormy. Many neighboring Township residents are opposed to the proposal, as are the Friends of Princeton Open Space, the Historical Society, Princeton Friends Meeting, and the Battlefield Area Preservation Society.

The residents are primarily concerned about the density of housing units and the cars that will be added to streets already choked with traffic. Although 344 units could be built on the tract "as of right" under present zoning, the negotiators were able to get the Freehold developer to agree to 300 units.

Forty-one are proposed as single family homes; 84 as "luxury" townhouses (up from 50 shown in the first plan); 67 as "villa" townhomes (down from the previous 110); and six as "multiplex" or garden apartment buildings containing 60 units of Mt. Laurel housing and 48 market apartments for a total of 108 units. This is two fewer buildings and 84 fewer apartments than originally shown.

The overall density is 2.45 units per acre, which is less than the 3.5 units permitted in the R-M (residential moderate density) zone. Almost 70 acres or 63 percent will be in open space. This includes the 24.1 acres containing the White Farm and its outbuildings that will remain in private ownership but be deed-restricted against future development.

The open space also includes 17.5 historic acres along Route 206 that are known as the Overlook, because it was from here that British soldiers en route to Trenton glimpsed American soldiers attempting to take out the Stony Brook bridge behind them, and the Battle of Princeton, turning point of the Revolutionary War, began. Under the proposed agreement, this land will be turned over to the Township or the state as an historic site.

The open space also includes 28.3 acres in the Stony Brook floodplain, which would be turned over to the Township for public open space.

These features of the proposed settlement agreement were expected to be outlined to the audience at the outset of the first meeting last Tuesday — before public comment. According to Arianne Kassof of Mercer Road, who has been coordinating the Stony Brook Area Civic Association as well as the coalition of neighborhood groups, residents will urge Committee and the Planning Board to reject the agreement and to explore other possibilities.

Not Convinced. "We do not feel that every possible avenue

Campaign Kickoff Set

The Litvack and Potter Campaign Committee has announced its campaign kickoff for Kate Litvack and William Potter, candidates for Princeton Township Committee. Albert and Ellen Stark will hold a fundraiser at their house, 65 Lovers Lane, on Sunday, October 4, from 4-6 p.m. Those interested in attending should contact Carol Horowitz, 921-1535, or Beth Healey, 921-1595, who are jointly planning the event.

has been explored," Mrs. Kassof says. "We're not convinced that we have to settle for 300 units, which will open a Pandora's box of traffic and environmental problems."

At the time the first settlement agreement was announced, the Stony Brook Coalition retained Neil Lewis of Goldshore and Wolf of Lawrence to represent them. They also hired a professional planner, Francis J. Banisch III of Banisch Associates of Sergeantsville. Mr. Banisch was to undertake a review of the Township's affordable housing program as it affected this site.

Both men were scheduled to speak last January at a public hearing on the first agreement which was cancelled by a snowstorm. The next hearing was cancelled when the discrepancy in acreage was discovered. They are expected to be brought into the present round of hearings.

R. William Potter, an attorney with a particular interest in environmental matters, is also expected to speak out against the proposed agreement. Mr. Potter is a strong advocate of the municipality's transferring the Mt. Laurel litigation from the courts to the Council on Affordable Housing established by the state legislature.

Earlier in the year, the Township filed a "resolution of intent" with the Council, indicating a possible interest in transferring the lawsuit without committing itself to actually doing so.

If either Township Committee or the Planning Board votes to reject the proposed agreement, the agreement is terminated and the lawsuit remains in force. At that point, according to Mr. Muller, the Township and the board will have to decide whether to take the matter to the Council or continue with Judge Serpentelli.

Attorney Ronald Reisner, who was hired because of his expertise in Mt. Laurel litigation to assist the Township in the negotiations, feels that the original intent of the Affordable Housing Council, to set up broad guidelines by which municipalities would create their own affordable housing programs, has been buried under the complicated rules and regulations it has adopted.

It is his view that the Township would be better off accepting the proposed plan, which includes a number of goals in terms of preserving historic and environmentally sensitive areas and providing a variety of housing types, rather than submitting to Council rules and guidelines, which may not be in the best interests of the town. "It is clear to me that the options the municipality would have are strictly limited (under Council rules)," Mr. Reisner says.

'Railroading' Charged. According to Mrs. Kassof, many of the neighbors feel that the settlement agreement is being "railroaded" through without public input. The negotiations were held in closed session, they feel, and now that the result is out in the open, there is talk of wrapping it all up by the end of the year.

Mr. Reisner counters this charge by noting that it has been 18 months since the negotiations began and he was brought in to assist in the process. He says that many municipalities have not bothered to get public feedback before taking the negotiated result to the judge or the Council for approval, but he thinks that is a mistake and thus insisted that there be full public hearings in Princeton.

Calton Homes

If anything, Mr. Reisner says, the Township and Planning Board have been criticized by the judges involved for "taking so long." Superior Court Judge Levy, who is to hear the damages suit Calton brought against former Mayor Winthrop Pike and Township Attorney Edwin W. Schmierer, among others, for allegedly having interfered with its efforts to purchase the Dravo tract, has scheduled a status conference on October 15.

According to Mr. Muller, the judge has advised the Township he has held off trying the case "long enough." One condition of the proposed settlement agreement is that this damages suit will be dropped "without prejudice" when the Planning Board grants site plan approval for the first phase of the Calton Homes development. If Calton wins this suit, the award could be far in excess of the amount covered by the Township insurance policy, Mr. Muller says.

He also says the Township has been advised by the attorney handling the case that six or seven additional attorneys should be hired — one for each of the named defendants. In addition to former Mayor Pike and Mr. Schmierer, these defendants include present Mayor Gail Fireston, former Township Committeeman William Cherry and former Committeewoman Barbara Cantrill.

Township Committee and the Planning Board are also named defendants in this damages suit. The costs of all this would be borne by the Township taxpayers. Opponents of the settlement agreement charge that the negotiators are trying to "bail out" the former mayor and the Township attorney.

Because she is a named defendant in this suit, Mayor Firestone has not been allowed to participate in the negotiations, and will not sit on either the Planning Board or Township Committee as it conducts the public hearings and votes on the proposal. A majority vote of each body is required for approval.

For Township Committee, then, the vote will have to be 3-1 in favor. Although he was a negotiator, Mr. Poole is saying publicly that he is "not happy" with 300 units on the White Farm site and wishes it were a smaller number. He voted against introduction of amendments to the affordable housing ordinance which would eliminate less suitable affordable housing sites in the Township and reduce the density on the R-M sites in the western section.

Committeewoman Carol Wo-jeiechowiec was also a negotiator and says that fact does not automatically assure her vote for the agreement. The other members of Committee are Phyllis Marchand and Janet Mitchell, who will be learning what the agreement involves and are expected to pay close attention to public reaction.

Planning Board members sitting in for the first hearing were expected to include James Sayen, Joseph O'Neill, George Adriance, Richard Henkel, Pamela Morine and Ralph Phillips.

The outcome will depend on whether these elected and appointed officials feel that the municipality is better off with the known elements of the proposed agreement, or with the unknown of trying for a different plan imposed by the judge or the Affordable Housing Council. It seems unlikely that a better settlement could be arrived at from a developer who sued for the right to build 1280 units originally and has now agreed to 300.

Calton Homes has proprietary rights to the White Farm and is likely to be granted some "relief" in the form of a development bonus on the tract by the judge or by the Council for having brought the suit in the first place, Mr. Reisner thinks. And the tract can not simply be zoned for no development by the municipality without paying Calton what the land is worth or by buying it outright and then re-zoning.

OBITUARIES

Memorial Service, Fund To Honor Hockey Coach

Princeton University has established a memorial fund to honor Richard F. Vaughan, a former head hockey coach, who died June 14 in Albuquerque, N.M. A memorial service will be held for Mr. Vaughan on Sunday at 4 at Trinity Church. Mr. Vaughan served as head coach of Princeton's hockey team from 1935 until 1959. His teams won the 1941 Quadrangular League and the 1953 Pentagonal League hockey championships. He also coached the freshman baseball and 150-pound football teams until 1969. His team won the Eastern Lightweight Football League championship in 1954. After retiring from active coaching in 1969, he continued as a physical education instructor until his official retirement in 1972.

The Princeton Hockey Association established the Richard F. Vaughan Cup, which is presented each year to the varsity player whose dedication and perseverance sets the best example to his teammates. He was made an honorary member of the Princeton classes of 1941 and 1944.

Mr. Vaughan served as president of the American Hockey Coaches Association in 1950-51 and as chairman of the United States Olympic Hockey Committee in 1951-52. He was inducted to the Collegiate Hockey Hall of Fame in 1973. He wrote Hockey for Coach and Spectator, published in 1939.

Mr. Vaughan also coached hockey for the Lawrenceville School and Princeton Day School for many years, and he ran a summer tennis school in Princeton during the 1950's.

Born in Janesville, Wis., he attended Newton High School in Newton, Mass., Phillips Andover Academy (1924) and Yale University (1928). He captained both the varsity hockey and varsity baseball teams at Yale in his senior year.

He married Frances B. Kennedy in 1930. She died in 1975. He is survived by his wife, Margaret A. Clancy Vaughan of Albuquerque; a daughter, Natalie W. Vaughan of Princeton; and three stepsons, Carder Vaughn of New York, N.Y., and Brewster Vaughn and Roger Vaughn of Albuquerque.

Contributions to the Richard F. Vaughan Memorial Fund may be made care of the Office of the Recording Secretary, P.O. Box 140, Princeton 08544.

Charles H. Teall, 83, of Greenview Avenue, died September 14 at his home.

Born in Weedsport, N.Y., Mr. Teall lived in Jamaica, Queens, New York City, before moving to Princeton 30 years ago. A graduate of Cornell University with a degree in engineering, he retired in 1967 from Ross Engineering in Highland Park after 45 years with the company. He was a member of Nassau Presbyterian Church.

Mr. Teall was the husband of the late Charlotte F. and brother of Mary Grace Teall.

The service was held at the Mather-Hodge Funeral Home, 40 Vandeventer Avenue, the Rev. John W. Groth, pastor of Grace United Methodist Church, Union Beach, officiating. Burial was in Princeton Cemetery.

John H.G. Munson, a former Princeton resident, died September 10 at Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center in New York City. He was 46 and lived in New York City and Mattapoisett, Mass.

Born in Honolulu, Hawaii, Mr. Munson grew up in Princeton and attended Princeton Country Day School. He attended the U.S. Naval Academy before receiving a bachelor's degree in 1963 from Columbia University, where he was a member of St. Anthony. He later attended Columbia University Law School.

Mr. Munson was an investment adviser with A. R. Schmiedler & Co. in New York City. A former member of the New York Yacht Club, he was an avid sailor and racing skipper with a number of East Coast middle distance ocean racing victories to his credit.

He also coached the U.S. Naval Academy sailing team.

He was interested in music and sang for many years with the St. Cecilia Chorus. He was a member of the board of directors of Solisti New York and the Metropolitan Opera Club.

Surviving are his wife, the former Ruth F. Blake; a daughter, Marianna C.A. Munson; a brother, Christopher J. Munson of Bethesda, Md.; and his mother, Mrs. Henry G. Munson of Princeton.

The service was held at St. Thomas Church in New York City. Memorial contributions may be made to the Supportive Care Program, Room 768C, Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center, 1275 York Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10021.

Burling D. Prince Jr., 75, of Stuart, Ga., died September 2 at a hospital in Brunswick, Ga. Born in Philadelphia, he lived in Princeton and in Lake Park, Fla., before moving to Stuart in 1975.

Prior to retirement, Mr. Prince was associated with Carter-Wallace, Inc. in New York City for more than 50 years. He was a member of St. Joseph Catholic Church in Stuart; the Drug, Chemical & Allied Trades Association, New York City; and the National Association of Purchasing Management.

Survivors include his wife, Hazel S. Prince of Stuart; three sons, Wayne of Short Hills, John of Kendall Park, and Burling D. Prince III of New Brunswick; two daughters, Yvonne Baumler of Jupiter, and Beverly Tucker of Mobile, and Beverly Tucker of Mobile, and Beverly Tucker of Mobile.

Ala.; a brother, Charles Prince of Hobe Sound; two sisters, Florence Martin of North Palm Beach, and Kay Pratt of Midway Park, N.C.; and five grandchildren.

Funeral mass was celebrated at St. Joseph Catholic Church in Stuart. Burial was in Fernhill Memorial Gardens, Stuart.

Florence L. Richardson, 87, of Canal Road, Griggstown, died September 20 at Franklin Convalescent Center, Franklin Park.

Born in Newark, Mrs. Richardson lived there until moving to Griggstown 13 years ago. She retired in 1965 after 15 years as a clerk with Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Co. of Newark. She was a member of the Franklin Park, Griggstown and Rocky Hill senior citizens clubs and a communicant of St. James Church, Rocky Hill.

Wife of the late Thomas A. Richardson, she is survived by a brother, Edward E. Lee of Verona, and several nieces and nephews.

Mass of Christian Burial was scheduled to be held this Wednesday at 10:30 a.m. at St. James Church, Rocky Hill, with burial in Immaculate Conception Cemetery, Montclair.

Winston R. Samaroo, 53, formerly of Princeton, died September 20 in St. Joseph's Hospital, Nashua, N.H.

Born in San Fernando, Trinidad, he graduated from McGill University and earned his M.S. and Ph.D. at the University of Ottawa. He was employed in the product planning department of AT&T in Andover, Mass., and was a member of Telephone Pioneers of America.

Surviving are three daughters, Michelle and Stephanie of Princeton and Julie of Carlisle, Pa.; his former wife, Louise M. Robichaud; and three sisters, Claudia Ling of Port of Spain and Gloria Garcia and Yvonne Domain of San Fernando.

The service was scheduled to be held this Wednesday in Milford, N.H. Memorial contributions may be made to the American Heart Association.

Henry L. Aldrich Jr., 34, a former Princeton resident, died September 18 of pneumonia while visiting in Atlanta, Ga.

A 1970 graduate of Princeton High School, Mr. Aldrich attended Trenton State College and Talladega College in Atlanta, Ga. He completed his education at the Arts Institute in Chicago, Ill., and was an artist by profession.

Surviving are his mother, Dr. Inez L. Hinds, and step-father, Albert E. Hinds of Princeton; a sister, H. Myrna Anderson of Atlanta, Ga.; his father, Henry L. Aldrich Sr., and brother, Christopher, both of Philadelphia.

Holy Eucharist will be celebrated Saturday at noon at All Saints' Church.

Katie Cohen Bogdonoff, 91, of Brooklyn, died September 16 at Coney Island Hospital, Brooklyn.

Born in London, England, Mrs. Bogdonoff lived in Bridgeport, Conn., and New York most of her life. She was a life member of Hadassah and a member of Lighthouse.

Wife of the late Glenn Bogdonoff, she is survived by two sons, Seymour of Princeton and Harold of Rochester, N.Y.; two sisters, Julia Methal and Sally Schafner, both of Brooklyn; and four grandchildren.

A graveside service was held at the Beth Israel Cemetery, Woodbridge. Memorial contributions may be made to the Lighthouse, 111 East 59th Street, New York, N.Y. 10022.

Lulu D. Helmer, 97, died September 13 at the Princeton Nursing Home.

She grew up in Black River Falls, Wis., and attended the University of Wisconsin. She was a resident of Detroit, Mich. from 1910 to 1982.

Surviving are a niece and three nephews, among them John D. Davies of Princeton.

Festivities Are Planned For Church Anniversary

The Bunker Hill Lutheran Church, Bunker Hill Road, Griggstown, will have special meetings Thursday, Friday and Sunday to celebrate the 30th anniversary of the church.

The church was organized in 1957 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peder Pedersen. On Thursday evening at 7:30, former Pastor Stanley Bugge will return to give the message, and special music will be provided by Margareth Alexandersen. On Friday evening, the first pastor of the congregation, Pastor George Aase, will speak, and a mini-concert will be presented by the Bunker Hill Lutheran Church choir under the direction of Harriet Nilsen. The present pastor, Robert M. Sletta, will lead each meeting.

The weekend of celebration will continue on Sunday, with Pastor Bugge speaking at the morning worship service. Special music will be sung by the church choir. An anniversary banquet will be held at 6 at Pheasant's Landing on Amwell Road in Hillsborough. Pastor Aase will speak, along with Pastors Sletta and Bugge. There will be special music by a ladies' quartet, the pastor's group and Margareth Alexandersen, and slides will be shown of the history of the church.

All are welcome to the special meetings. For additional information, call Pastor Sletta at (201) 359-6302.

Campaign Tops $500,000 For United Jewish Appeal

The Princeton United Jewish Appeal has raised more than $500,000 for the first time in its 44-year history.

During the last four years, the Princeton UJA has grown from a $200,000 campaign to the present $505,000 total. As a result of such growth, the Princeton UJA is also the recipient of the national UJA Pinchas Sapir Award, which recognizes outstanding campaign achievements for a small community. This award was given for accomplishments during the 1986 campaign, spearheaded by Florence Kahn. Under her leadership, the PUJA experienced its largest dollar percentage increases and added significant numbers of contributors.

Monies raised by the Princeton UJA are allocated to help needy Jews locally, in Israel and around the world. Some of the area allocations include Greenwood House, Home for the Jewish Aged in Trenton, Jewish Family Service of the Delaware Valley and Princeton University Hillel. It is the purpose of the Princeton UJA to further the welfare of world Jewry and to raise money for philanthropic, social, cultural, educational, and religious needs in Israel, at home and abroad.

The 1987 campaign was headed by Susan Hollander and Reba K. Orszag. The Princeton UJA is presently gearing up for the 1988 campaign under the new leadership of president Jerry Kurshan and campaign chairman Jackie Goodman.

Bulletin Notes

First Church of Christ, Scientist, 6 Bayard Lane, will be one of the recipients of an international broadcast Thursday at 8 p.m. The broadcast will unite Christian Scientists on six continents for a 60-minute telecast that will be available in a choice of nine languages.

Originating from Boston, London, and Sydney, the Christian Science Global Lecture will be transmitted to some 350 sites throughout the world via 10 transponders on eight different domestic, regional and international satellites.

The Prince of Peace Lutheran Church on Hightstown Road in Princeton Junction will return to its two-service fall schedule on Sunday. Services will be held at 8:30 and 11 a.m.

The Sunday School will also begin its fall schedule starting at 9:45 a.m. with classes for children 2 years old and up and for adults. Everyone is welcome to the church services or the Sunday School. For information, call either of the pastors, the Rev. Gregg Kaufman or the Rev. Margaret Payne, at 799-1753.

Witherspoon Street Presbyterian Church will hold a Prayer and Praise service on Sunday at 7. The service will be led by the Rev. Eugene Sutton of Princeton Theological Seminary. All are invited to come sing their favorite hymn and to bring their prayer requests for physical, emotional and spiritual healing.

Kingston Presbyterian Church will show the film "Twice Pardoned," on Sunday at 7. Refreshments will be provided and a free will offering will be taken.

The film was created especially for teenagers by Focus on the Family Films. In it, ex-convict Harold Morris tells his life story and urges teenagers to avoid the snares of alcohol, drugs, illicit sex and wrong association that led to his imprisonment. The film was taped in two parts before 10,000 teenagers in San Antonio, Tex., and on location at Georgia State Penitentiary. Both parts will be shown Sunday evening.

On the basis of false testimony from two "friends," Mr. Morris was convicted of armed robbery and murder in 1969 and sentenced to a double life term at Georgia State Penitentiary. After eight years in prison, including time on Death Row, Mr. Morris made a commitment to Jesus Christ and began an outreach to young people.

He was released on parole in 1978 and was later graduated from Southeastern Bible College in Birmingham, Ala. He was pardoned by Georgia Governor George Busbee in 1981. Those attending the film are asked to let the church know they are coming by calling 921-8895.

Bishop Albrecht Schonherr, retired bishop of Berlin and Brandenburg in the German Democratic Republic, will be at Princeton Theological Seminary on Thursday. He will speak on the topic "The Life and Witness of the Church in East Germany," at 7 in the Mackay Campus Center. Members of the community are invited to attend.

Bishop Schonherr was a personal friend of Dietrich Bonhoeffer, Christian theologian and martyr to the Nazis for refusing to join the state church and swear allegiance to Hitler.

Mrs. Schonherr, a pastor in the Evangelical Church and an advocate for feminist concerns in her country and her church, will also speak.

The Newest Centrally Located
Townhouses In Princeton

Tucked into an interior cul-de-sac just one block from Firestone Library are five new townhouses situated around a paved courtyard. They are imaginative, well-built and include good-sized living rooms and master bedroom suites. Unit five which is now available features a solarium, living room with fireplace, efficient modern kitchen and a spacious master bedroom as well as guest bedroom and studio. It's an unexpected delight with steeply sloped gabled and chimneyed roofs and oak entry ways. To paraphrase a wonderful reporter they look like something out of Dickens, as if they belong more properly in London.

ROCKY HILL-BLAWENBURG ROAD

A spacious terrace and inviting pool (with blue liner surrounded by matching carpeting) in a setting of emerald green lawn and majestic evergreens, offer recreation and relaxation many months of the year. Also included — an attractive barn red ranch with a brick front. With the convenience of one floor living, it consists of: Entry, living-dining room with fireplace, efficient kitchen, sun porch/family room, three bedrooms and 2 baths. Recreation room on lower level. $237,500

OLDEN LANE

This beautiful Williamsburg Colonial, a Thompson design, has everything — all the amenities for gracious living and one of Princeton's most desired locations — near the Institute. Elegant living areas include a delightful family room, solarium and cherry panelled library with a third fireplace. An adjoining bath with 2 dressing rooms serves the free form pool in its secluded wooded setting. $885,000

GREENLAND COURT

Russell Estates — in exclusive Edgerstoune. Eighty-five beautiful acres of rolling land, with its natural beauty preserved, is now shared by fortunate new home owners. Nine cul-de-sacs leave almost half the acreage as open space. This house of "weathered" grey cedar offers gracious living areas with full bath on first floor. Three bedrooms and 2 baths on second. $567,000

PENNINGTON-LAWRENCEVILLE ROAD

Colonial with circular driveway located on the edge of the historic village of Lawrenceville. Dramatic two story center hall with circular staircase. Step down to a gourmet country kitchen with skylight, vaulted, beamed ceiling and fan, with a bricked wall barbeque, griddle and oven. Enclosed porch with storm windows and screens. Walk to schools, tennis, swimming and bus to New York City. Professional landscaping. Move-in condition. Excellent office location. $297,000

PARKSIDE DRIVE

A luxurious expanded master suite makes this dramatic contemporary even more exciting. High on a hillside in western Princeton, it is completely secluded by a long driveway and a profusion of trees and shrubs. An iron gate opens to a walled court with circular brick terrace beyond. The generous use of glass throughout the house and spectacular garden room brings the outside beauty in and creates light, bright rooms. $495,000

FISHER AVENUE

Look what they've done to this house! You will have to see it to believe it. The soft gray with its sparkling white trim in a setting of beautiful trees and landscaping creates a pretty picture. Gleaming brass carriage lamps give a hint of the transformation within. Gracious living areas include delightful family room with windowed wall. Master bedroom and bath on first. Two charming bedrooms, study and bath on second. Fenced rear yard. $375,000

RETAIL OPPORTUNITIES

Experience the Daffy Difference

In North Brunswick

The secret to Daffy's phenomenal success throughout New Jersey goes beyond the outstanding discounts we offer on major designer fashions. It has to do with the enthusiasm of the outstanding people on our team—a team you can now become a part of. Due to our exceptional growth, DAFFY's proudly announces its eighth store to be located at the Fashion Plaza, Route 1 South in North Brunswick. We're seeking motivated, hard working, people-oriented individuals to join our staff. Our full and part time positions (flexible schedules) include:

- Department Manager Trainee
- Department Managers
- Sales Associates
- Cashiers
- Display
- Stock

While you are enjoying the friendly atmosphere of a DAFFY's store, you'll also be enjoying the following benefits: competitive salaries, company-paid medical and dental, tuition reimbursement, paid holidays and sick days, paid holidays on your birthday and date of hire anniversary, and, of course, employee discounts on store merchandise.

Join us for an interview on September 24 and 25 from 10 AM till 8 PM and September 26 from 10 AM till 2 PM at the Quality Inn Conference Center, Route 1 South, North Brunswick. For further information prior to interview contact our personnel office at (201) 246-2800.

After Years of Service as Elected Officials of the Borough Dick & Karen Woodbridge Are Moving to Princeton Township

After a combined total of 16 years of elected public service in the Borough, Dick and Karen Woodbridge plan to move to the Township, a step that will force their respective resignations from Borough Council and the Princeton Regional Board of Education. The couple and their three young children expect to buy a Bertrand Drive house owned by Hugh Brandt, who recently resigned from the School Board to move to Ohio.

Mr. Woodbridge is in the second year of his fourth term on Borough Council, having first been elected in 1975. Mrs. Woodbridge is in her fifth year as a Borough representative on the School Board.

The Woodbridges began looking for a new home in the Borough, but they didn't find a lot of choice in family housing. "It is particularly difficult to find what you want with a bit of acreage around it," said Mrs. Woodbridge. "The price of housing in the Borough for the same type of house in the Township is a bit higher," added her husband. "People love to live close in."

They've witnessed many changes on William Street in the 14 years they've been there, watching it evolve from a family neighborhood to a moderately transient one with almost no children living in it.

Mr. Woodbridge, who spent much of his youth in Princeton, remembers William Street in the late 40's, when it was more residential and family oriented. "The old University baseball field was where the Engineering School is now," he recalls.

"The parking yard across the street used to be a mud baseball field. There used to be four or five more houses, but they were moved from the street."

Late October Move. Barring the unforeseen, the couple expects to move in late October, and both would resign at that time. This is about the time that Irv Urken expects to move to Heatherstone in the Township, opening up two vacancies on Borough Council.

The vacancies will be filled by the Mayor and Council, who will select from a list of three names submitted by the Republican municipal chair (for Mr. Woodbridge's seat) and the Democratic municipal chair (for Mr. Urken's.)

Mrs. Woodbridge's place on the School Board would be filled via selection from a list of applicants. This is the same process currently under way to replace Mr. Brandt.

For 11 years, Mr. Woodbridge has been enlivening

councilman is proud of several things, including his service as Council president, as well as the role he played in the funding of the paramedic program; the CBD rezoning that encouraged residential and retail building; the Shand Report, which paved the way for the Township's first firehouse; and the expansion of the Police Department.

Unfinished Business. He would like not to resign until he gets certain projects behind him, such as some solutions to the parking and traffic problems in the east end of town and various public works programs, including street repair. "My only regret is not staying long enough to see these through," he says.

He views parking and planning as two serious problems. "We must provide more parking downtown," he says, "and I'm dismayed about the very slow and ineffective planning process in the region."

Mr. Woodbridge calls his Council service "a positive, growing experience that was worth all the pain and travail it takes to get elected." But he doubts he will get involved in Township politics for a while, although he doesn't preclude the possibility in the future.

"It's time to take a break," he says. "Besides, I've got some projects on the back burner, such as a book on how to start a high tech company." Mr. Woodbridge, a Princeton attorney, also recently started a small company, Princeton Hydroproducts.

Both Woodbridges are affected by a state statute that prohibits their seeking office in a new municipality for a period of one year.

Mrs. Woodbridge, who serves on the United Way Board and is an alternate trustee for the YM-YWCA, hopes to remain involved in the community and the schools.

She sees the hiring of a new superintendent, Dr. Carole Choye, as a very important step during her tenure on the Board, "and now we are involved in the next phase and have hired a new and exciting staff, including an assistant superintendent, and, at the high school, an assistant principal, director of guidance, and drug and alcohol abuse counselor."

She will miss the Board, which she calls "a fine group of people who work very well to-

Council meetings with his dry wit and quick puns. "There is no hard shred of scientific evidence to support the proposition that life was meant to be serious," he contends. Asked how he feels about being the only Republican on Council, he replies, "It's like being a Maytag repairman; it gets a little lonely."

Borough Mayor Sigmund, against whom he ran unsuccessfully for mayor four years ago, says she will miss Mr. Woodbridge's obvious dedication to the town. "And on a personal level," she says, "I will miss his punning and funning, and his general good cheer."

Looking back, the veteran gether," and feels it is at the stage of doing exciting things. "It's beginning to make a fine district into the best district it can be," she says.

Her upcoming plan, now that her children — ages 12, 10, and 7 — are in school, is to look for employment. "But this is on the back burner until we get the whole house thing done," she says.

"Leaving the Borough was an extremely difficult decision for both of us," says Mrs. Woodbridge, "and we're going to miss it. But we both feel it is the right decision for our family at this time."

MAKING A SMALL ROOM LOOK BIGGER

There are many ways that you can use the right furniture and the right decorating ideas to make any smaller room seem bigger.

We're going to list for you some of the ways of achieving it.

1. Use some more light colors. Light colors make a room look larger while many dark colors make it contract.

2. Use such things as two smaller pieces for one bigger one; for example, two smaller tables instead of one extra large one.

3. Use mirrors; mirrors give the illusion of adding space.

4. If you buy furniture or accessories with patterns, choose some smaller patterns.

5. Wall-to-wall carpet makes an area look bigger.

6. Try some pictures with deep perspectives; outdoor scenes — landscapes or seascapes that seem to show miles of space — add depth to a room.

7. Don't overcrowd a small room, create an impression of space.

8. Use some occasional chairs and some smaller-scaled furniture.

Those are just some of the ideas, and for the right selection of furniture for a small room — or any room — in your home stop in. We're here to help you.

News of TheTHEATRES*Performance on Saturday
Of 199-Year-Old Play

The Politician Out-Witted, a comedy written in 1788 and set against the political turmoil surrounding the ratification of the U.S. Constitution, will be performed Saturday at 8 at the State Museum, Trenton. It is believed to be the only play of its period to incorporate the Constitution as a major theme.

Written by American playwright Samuel Low, the play provides a look at the language, mores, ambiance, cultural climate and the political issues of the time. The themes of marriage, lust, money, deception and meddling parents are set against a backdrop of the Constitution's ratification.

The plot focuses on two lovers, Charles Lovey and Harriet Trueman, who are harassed from marrying by their fathers' political differences. The story is centered around the political debate which takes place between the fathers, and it points out the fact that the creation of the Constitution was a highly controversial process.

The play will be produced by the East Lynne Company of Secaucus, a company dedicated to the revival of historical American theatre from the 18th, 19th- and early 20th-centuries.

The Politician Out-Witted was one of the first plays written in America. It was rejected by the John Street Theatre, the only important theatre in New York at the time, probably because its British managers were uncomfortable staging a play about an American political controversy.

Tickets are available from the museum's Office of Public Programming, 292-6310. Tickets are $7.50, $6 for groups of 10 or more, and $6 for members of the Friends.

Auditions for Teenagers

Auditions will be held this weekend and next for teenagers and young adults who are interested in helping develop and perform in a new musical about adolescent sexuality, sponsored by Familyborn.

The musical is being produced and written by Shirley Kaplan, founder of the Paper Bag Players, and will be directed by Lucinda Ziesing for a benefit performance and a school tour.

Actors, singers, dancers and musicians between the ages of 13 and 21 are invited to try out. Auditions will be held Saturday from 9:30 to 5:30, and Sunday, October 4, at the same times, at Westminster Choir College. Those auditioning should bring their own material.

To schedule an appointment, call Familyborn at 683-5100 weekdays from 9 to 5, Tuesdays and Thursdays until 8 p.m.

The State Museum is located at 205 West State Street, Trenton. Parking will be available in the lot behind the planetarium.

Players' 55th Season Opens With "Harvey"

The Princeton Community Players will begin their 55th season with a production of Mary Chase's Harvey.

Harvey is perhaps best known as a movie starring Jimmy Stewart and Josephine Hull. "Harvey" is a six-foot, one-and-a-half-inch rabbit, who is the close friend and confidant of Elwood P. Dowd. Herbert McAneny will appear as Elwood P. Dowd. Mr. McAneny has been a member of PCP since its inception in 1933; in fact, he played the role of Elwood when PCP last presented Harvey in 1953.

Also in the cast are Priscilla Smith as Veta Louise Simmons, Elwood's distraught sister; Angela McCann as Myrtle Mae, Veta's daughter; Richard Hunt as Dr. Chumley; Benson Lapides as Wilson; and David Callaghan as Dr. Sanderson. Rounding out the cast are Kathi Sykes, Pam Burkhalter, Peg Ritterbusch, Rochelle Jacobs, and "Harvey," appearing as himself.

Harvey is being directed by Judith S. Parish, with Ted Hoagland as assistant director. Ron Kelly is the set and lighting designer. David Flagg is producing, with Larry Zyontz acting as stage manager.

Ms. Parrish last directed PCP's production of Cole and was seen in last season's productions of Black Comedy and The Crucible. She has also worked as musical director for PCP in productions of Once Upon a Mattress and Man of La Mancha.

Harvey will be presented at the Mill Hill Playhouse, Trenton, on October 9, 10, 16, 17, 18, 23 and 24. All performances are at 8 p.m., except October 18, which will be a 3 p.m. matinee. Tickets are $8. Group sales and season subscriptions are available.

Courses at McCarter Will Begin in October

The Training Wing of McCarter Theatre has announced its fall schedule of classes, which are open to any individual interested in learning the acting or playwriting craft. Classes are taught by professionals who are members of the theatre's acting company and staff.

Classes include Acting for High School Students (ages 14-18); Performance Technique (age 18 and up); Scene Study (age 18 and up); Stage Combat (age 16 and up); Playwriting (age 16 and up); Advanced Acting Lab (age 18 and up); and Playwriting Workshop (age 16 and up).

The courses range from eight to 12 weekly sessions, beginning the first week in October and ending in December. The fee is $150 for each course, with the exception of Stage Combat, which is $130. Interviews, which will be held September 28, are required of those wishing to enroll in the acting classes.

For a brochure and further details, call Sandy Moscovitz, McCarter Theatre Training Wing, 683-9100, extension 6021.

'Aladdin's Lamp' Set By Hopewell Theater

The Off-Broadstreet Theatre will begin its new season of children's classics with a production of Aladdin and the Magic Lamp. This familiar fairy tale of fortune and good luck will be performed Friday at 10 and Saturday at 10:30 and 1.

The series is designed for the young theater-goer and encourages audience response. Theater birthday parties are available at the Saturday afternoon performances. Call the theater for more information.

Admission is $3.50 per person, and group rates are available. The theater is at 5 South Greenwood Avenue, Hopewell. For reservations or further information call 466-2766.

MUSIC

James Taylor Concert To Benefit RP Foundation

Singer/songwriter James Taylor will perform his music on Friday, October 29, at 8 at Jadwin Gymnasium on the Princeton University campus. The concert will benefit the RP Foundation Fighting Blindness. Winner of three Grammys, with eight gold and platinum albums, Mr. Taylor is expected to sell out the 6,500-seat gym. New Jersey Governor Thomas Kean and former Governor Brendan Byrne are honorary co-chairmen of the event.

Mr. Taylor will donate his fee for the evening, in addition to all proceeds from the show. He is a friend of Princeton resident Gordon Gund, co-founder and chairman of the national RP Foundation board of trustees. Mr. Gund was blinded by RP (retinitis pigmentosa) in 1970.

Princeton will be the last stop on Mr. Taylor's national concert tour. The event will be the culmination of "RP Awareness Week" throughout the state.

Mail-order tickets priced at $100 and $35 are available. To obtain tickets, write to the RP Foundation, P.O. Box 449, Princeton 08542 and enclose a check for the exact amount. General public tickets at $20 each will go on sale after September 28 on a first-come, first-served basis at locations to be announced. For more information on tickets, call the RP Foundation at 924-8068.

The RP Foundation is a national eye research foundation dedicated to finding a cure for retinal degenerative diseases such as retinitis pigmentosa, Usher's syndrome (deaf-blindness), and macular degeneration. They affect approximately 500,000 Americans.

Concert Series to Open With Beaux Arts Trio

The Beaux Arts Trio will open the Princeton University Concerts' 1987-88 season with a performance on Thursday, October 8, at 8 in Richardson Auditorium on the University campus.

Dining out is no gamble at Roberta's.

Roberta's offers a full house of imaginative, immaculately prepared, exciting foods which change to take advantage of the best of the changing seasons.

"One of five restaurants in N.J. which merit special attention"
Bryan Miller, New York Times, Sept. 9, 1987

Don't gamble on your enjoyment when you dine out. Play it straight ... to Roberta's, located in the heart of Princeton, with plenty of off-street parking and "some of the most imaginative food in New Jersey."

Music

the Beaux-Arts Trio has toured throughout North and South America, Europe, Japan, the Middle East, Australia, and New Zealand, and has won several awards, including three Grand Prix du Disques and two "Record of the Year" citations, for its recordings.

The trio's many appearances, including its annual engagements at the Library of Congress, Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York, and the Chicago, Denver, and Detroit Chamber Music Societies, inevitably generate sold-out houses. They are regularly heard at the nation's leading music festivals, including Mostly Mozart, Ravinia, and Tanglewood.

For this Princeton concert, the Beaux Arts will perform Haydn's Trio in A major, Beethoven's "Ghost" Trio, and Mendelssohn's Trio in D minor, Opus 49.

Tickets are $11 to $16, with a special price of $6 for students.

Tickets may be obtained by calling the Richardson Auditorium Box Office, 452-5000. Box Office hours are 4 to 6:30 Tuesday to Friday.

Folk Singer to Perform At Witherspoon School

The Princeton Folk Music Society will feature Gordon Bok in a concert on Monday at 8 at the John Witherspoon Middle School, 217 Walnut Lane.

Mr. Bok's music is mostly self-taught. He has designed, built and played many different instruments. In concerts, he concentrates mostly on six- and twelve-stringed guitars and the "cellamba" (a bass viol da gamba on a cello body).

He sings traditional sea songs of many countries, unaccompanied ballads of Maine and the Maritimes, stories of boats and sailors from his experience, stories of sea-folk and cantables of his own composition, and performs contemporary songs and guitar instrumentals of many kinds.

Mr. Bok has performed in folk clubs, festivals and concerts throughout this country,

Canada, Great Britain and Scandinavia. Serving as original first mate of the sloop Clearwater, he toured the New England coast with the Hudson River Sloop Singers. He has appeared in concert with the Paul Winter Consort and the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra, and has served both as Artist-in-Residence and faculty member of the College of the Atlantic.

Appearing with Gordon Bok will be Dave Goulder.

Admissions are $5 for adults, $4 for students, $4 for Society members, $2 for children and senior citizens. There are no advance sales. Memberships are available at the door. For further information, call 799-0009.

Flute Recital At PDS To Be Given By Senior

Peggy Yoo will give a flute recital at Princeton Day School, Herbert McAneny Theater, on Sunday at 4. This will be the second performance Miss Yoo has given for the school. Tickets will be $4 for adults and $2 for students.

Miss Yoo is enrolled at the Juilliard Pre-College and has spent her summers at the Estherwood Music Festival. In 1986 she performed with Jean-Pierre Rampal, Julius Baker, and Eugenia Zuckerman at Carnegie Hall. In the past, this young musician has also been invited to give recitals at Michael C. Paul Hall at Juilliard, the Estherwood Music Festival, and Westbury Gardens, Long Island.

Miss Yoo will graduate from Princeton Day School in June 1988.

ART

Works by Rex Goreleigh: Retrospective Planned

A memorial exhibition of the works of Rex Goreleigh, who died last year in Princeton at the age of 84, will be held at the Arts Council Gallery, 102 Witherspoon Street, from October 2-November 13. The opening will take place from 6-8 p.m. on October 2.

The artist, born in a small town in Pennsylvania, moved to Harlem as a young man and became caught up in the Harlem Renaissance of the '20s. He later studied in Europe, and, shortly after his return in 1935, became director of the South Side Community Art Center in Chicago, a meeting place for black artists and writers.

In 1947, he was invited to Princeton to head Princeton Group Arts, an experiment in racial integration through the arts. After six years, financial problems caused the center to close.

In 1955, Mr. Goreleigh opened his Studio-on-the Canal, at the foot of Alexander Street. This offered instruction in painting, drawing, printmaking, and ceramics. The studio remained in operation for 24 years.

The artist's paintings, according to Hughie Lee-Smith, can be placed in two broad categories, ranging from the Impressionist-influenced landscapes of his early period to a Social-Realist orientation that grew out of the black cultural revolution of the 1960's.

The Arts Council retrospective, though not large, is representative of his work's stylistic span. Among the paintings included are Canal Road in Winter, Princeton, Quakerbridge Road, Princeton, and Tabacco Plant and The Tomato Picker, from his best-known work, the Migrant Series.

In honor of Mr. Goreleigh, the Arts Council has established a scholarship fund for the After-School Arts Program, in his name. These classes are aimed particularly at self-care children. Donations from the community are welcome.

For further information on the exhibition, call 924-8777.

Exhibits

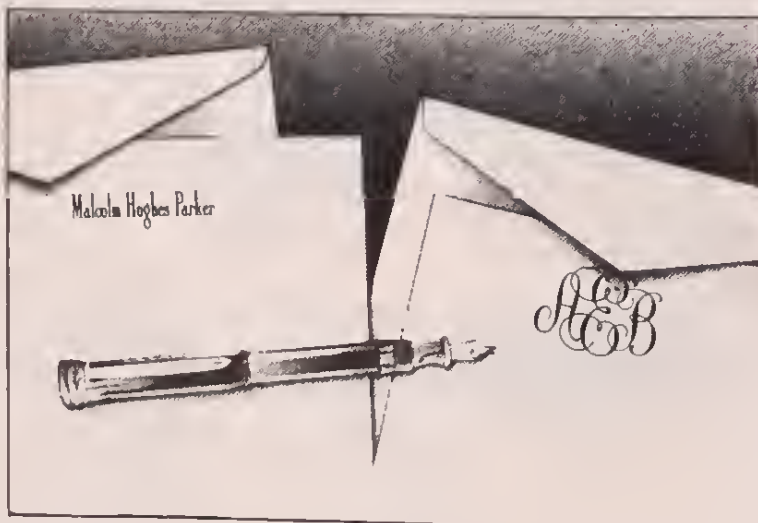

The third year of the Norbert Considine Gallery at Stuart Country Day School of the Sacred Heart will open on Friday, with a show of new work by photographer Martha Vaughn. It will feature color photographs of Venice and India, hand colored black and white photographs, and experimental works in which many photographs of the same subject are joined to make a new image.

The artist's reception will be held that day from 6 until 8 at the school. The public is invited.

Once again, the gallery's

Good Neighbor Party Set By Community Guidance

The Community Guidance Center of Mercer County, 253 Nassau Street, will hold Princeton's first Nassau East Good Neighbor Lawn Party on Tuesday from 6:30 until 8 p.m. The party is in celebration of a unified community spirit of cooperation between new neighbor Davidson's Market and The Community Guidance Center.

Refreshments will be served and musical entertainment will feature, among others, Ian Coats and Jan R. Weinberg of Coats and Tales, Princeton high school singing group The Cat's Meow, flutists Lauren French and Katie Evans, and Ken Schmit on the accordion. At 7:30 a special tribute will be made to the memory of the community spirit of Leroy Davidson, of Davidson's Market.

The Community Guidance Center of Mercer County is a non-profit outpatient mental health clinic serving the residents of Mercer County and surrounding communities since 1948. A United Way agency, it maintains the Whitney Center in Princeton, the Plainsboro Center, Ewing Center, Hamilton Center, the Children's Day School and the Children's Day Treatment Program in Trenton.

For further information concerning the lawn party, or to inquire about attending, call 924-2896.

All administration, faculty, staff, and graduate students, new to Princeton, and their families, will be guests of the Princeton University League at the annual picnic for members and newcomers on Saturday at noon at the Magie Apartments meeting room and lawn on Faculty Road. Guests should bring a picnic lunch with a little extra to share — beverages and desserts will be provided.

The University League sponsors furniture rental, trips, weekly English conversation sessions, evening lectures, potluck dinners, garden and exercise groups, the use of free museum passes, and an informal pre-school play group.

For further information about the picnic, call Jan Kouzes at 921-1153. For additional information about the University League, or a copy of the League's "Newcomer's Guide," call Dilly Carril at 452-3650 from 9 to 1.

"The Best of Everything," a musical fashion show, will be presented Sunday at the Princeton Elk's Lodge, Route 518, Blawenburg.

Dinner will be served at 5 p.m. The show, accompanied by a live band, singing and dancing, will start at 6.

The event, sponsored by the Princeton Elks No. 2129 Ladies Auxiliary, is open to the public, but tickets are by reservation only. Cost is $25 per person. For tickets or information, call (201) 359-1353 or 924-6963.

Rabbi Shaya Cohen will speak at an open meeting of the National Council of Jewish Women, Greater Princeton Section, on Monday at 6:30 p.m. at the West Windsor library. The topic of his talk will be

Jewish ethics and their contribution to the writing of the Constitution.

Dinner will be served. Admission is a vegetable, pareve or dairy main dish, or dessert. The program is open to the public. Call 924-2752 or 275-0282 for additional information.

Meetings of the Friday Club will resume on Friday, October 2, at the Princeton YWCA. The first program, which will begin the 28th year of meetings, will be sponsored by the Friends of the Princeton Public Library in honor of Edith Barenholtz, who first suggested the joint gathering.

All senior women in the area are invited to a light lunch at 12:30, to be followed by a program about library services and a showing of a movie from the film library.

"Princeton University: Then and Now — Evolution of a University and its Students" will be the title of a talk at 55 PLUS by Neil L. Rudenstine, provost and professor of English at Princeton University, on Thursday, October 1, at the Jewish Center. The meeting starts at 10 a.m. Fifty-five Plus was organized more than a year ago to facilitate social contact and friendships among men who are retired or who enjoy flexible working hours.

Dr. Rudenstine's talk, which will start at 10:45, will discuss how the University and its students have changed over the past 20 years. All men in the area are invited.

The Mercer Chapter of the American Diabetes Association has formed a support group for parents of children with diabetes. It will meet for eight consecutive weeks, beginning Wednesday, September 30, from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. in Princeton. The sessions will deal with the emotional impact of diabetes on the family. Tina Weishaus, R.N., will be the group facilitator.

Reservations are limited to 14 participants and will focus on parents of children age 3 to 12. Cost for the eight sessions is $25 per person, or $40 per couple.

For reservations, or additional information, call 392-1808, before Monday.

Municipal Judge Linda Feinberg will lead a panel presentation on alternate dispute resolution at the League of Women Voters of Hopewell Valley's annual Back-to-League meeting. The meeting will be held at Sked Parlor in the Pennington Methodist Church on Friday at 8 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

Judge Feinberg, an innovator in the alternate dispute resolution technique, will explain how municipalities are attempting to streamline the justice system by keeping minor disputes out of the courts.

Hopewell Township is currently setting up its all-citizen panel, and Lawrence already has a successful alternate dispute resolution board in place. Some of its members will join Judge Feinberg to comment on their experiences with the new system.

For further information, call Kate O'Neill at 737-3177.

The Junior Woman's Club will meet Thursday, October 1 at 7:30 p.m. at the West Windsor branch of the Mercer County Library, Clarksville Road. A representative from the Crafty Lion will present a program on holiday crafts, which will be followed by a general business meeting.

schedule will be devoted to the work of women artists. A wide variety of sculptors are on the roster, as well as painters and printmakers. The gallery's instructional focus will continue; each exhibitor is scheduled for a meeting with students while her work is on display.

A graduate of Wheaton College, Ms. Vaughn studied photography at the International Center of Photography in New York, the Maine Photographic Workshop, and the Ansel Adams Workshop in California. Her work has been seen most recently at the University City Arts League, Philadelphia; the Douglass College Center, Rutgers; and the Squibb Gallery.

The New Jersey Branch of the National League of American Pen Women will hold its biennial state art show at the Back Door Gallery, Princeton Shopping Center, from October 2 to 31. Pen Women artists from all over the state will be represented in this mixed media show of paintings, sculpture and stained glass.

An opening reception for artists and guests will be held on Friday, October 2, from 6:30 to 8:30, at which time the state winners will be announced. Judges are Mary Yess, director of the Princeton Art Association and sculptor Valerie Bowes. Award winners from this show are eligible to enter the NLAPW National Show to be held in Washington, D.C., next year.

Rider College will present the inaugural exhibition of selections from its permanent art collection from October 4-31 in the Student Center Art Gallery. An opening day reception will be held from 4-7 p.m. Gallery hours are 1-10 p.m. Monday-Thursday and 1-5 p.m. Friday-Sunday. The exhibit is free.

On display will be the work of about 30 artists, some fine and rare pieces of African sculpture, and three Alexander Calder tapestries. In all, some 50 pieces will be on display.

"Over the years, Rider has been given many gifts of art, and this exhibition represents our first public showing of selections from those gifts," said Dr. Frank N. Elliott, Rider president. "Periodically, in the future, we will be mounting similar shows that will contain other works from our permanent collection."

Area artists represented in the show include Judith Brodsky, Chis Craig, Harry Naar, and Idaherna Williams.

Photographs by Michael Littwin and Mel Schnur will be on exhibit in Conant Hall, Lounge B, Educational Testing Service through October 30.

Mr. Littwin, a Lawrence Township resident, uses the computer to transform his black-and-white photos into colored images. He has exhibited in many group and student shows, including "Lude Inundados," Small Walls, New York City; the Mercer County Community College alumni show; and "Ellarslie Open VI," Trenton.

Mr. Schnur, a resident of Warren, recently received a fellowship award from the New Jersey State Council on the Arts and first-place awards in photography from the Essex Arts Council Juried Show and in black-and-white photography from the Salamagundi Club. His works are in many private collections.

A reception for the photographers will be held Sunday, September 13, from 3 to 5 p.m. in Conant Hall, Lounge B. The public is invited to attend.

Bath Essentials, Luxuries Highlight Bath 'N' Things

"We're a specialty shop for your bathroom," explains Kim Ford, manager of Bath 'N' Things in the Montgomery Shopping Center. "The trend is to make this essential room as attractive as possible," she adds, and the new shop has an outstanding selection of items guaranteed to please everyone's taste.

Mrs. Ford and her father, Jerry De Baro, who has a similar store in Bridgewater, opened Bath 'N' Things last week. "I decided I wanted to move out to this location," says Mr. De Baro. "We wanted to expand a little, and there are really no other bath shops like this between Bridgewater and the Quaker Bridge Mall."

Originally a plumbing contractor, Mr. De Baro switched to retailing several years ago and reports that, "I actually like this end of the business better than contracting. It's never boring. No two days are the same. Each day is different, and I enjoy dealing with different people. Also, the changes are incredible. Since 1970, I've seen such changes as far as the items go, especially in the last five to seven years. There are so many different decorative items available now."

Mr. De Baro's shop seems to carry most of them. It has everything from towels and tubs (whirlpool and regular) to toilet seats. Fixtures, pictures, medicine cabinets, marble-top sinks, mirrors and make-up tables are on hand, as are scales, shower curtains, space-saver shelves (to fit above and around the toilet) and accessories such as soap dishes, tumblers, vases, towel holders, night lights and fun laundry bags. Ceramic animals, including swans, otters and frogs, are very popular towel holders and come in different colors. Wall-to-wall carpet for the bath, wicker items, such as waste baskets, hampers and a variety of furniture, are also available.

Gift Source. Bath 'N' Things carries an assortment of gifts, including Venton Glass and Christine Victoria items. Furniture, suitable for the bath or other rooms, is on display, too, and includes pine, oak, wicker and brass pieces. There are also comforters and bedspreads. As Mrs. Ford says, "People like to coordinate these days, and comforters and bedspreads can coordinate with the master bath as to colors. They're closely related. Also, many of our shower curtains have matching window curtains, and you can also match the shower curtains to accessories such as tissue holders, toilet seats, etc. Many of our new shower curtains are specially treated and don't need liners, and they also have weighted bottoms, so they don't need magnets. If people tell us what color they want to work with, we'll help them put a whole look together."

Adds Mr. De Baro, "Kim is here to help people coordinate the bath from fixtures right down to the last little detail. We offer complete remodeling, and we also design and install."

The time of year is a factor in sales, he reports. "In June, we had a big wicker sale, and we sold nothing but wicker. Now, in the fall, when people are spending more time inside, they often redecorate the bathroom, change the colors, rugs, shower curtains and accessories."

The popularity of colors and styles changes too, notes Mrs. Ford. "For instance, black, gray and white are coming back again and also jade and pastels. Earth tones have phased out a bit."

Pictures are a popular item in the bathroom nowadays, and Bath 'N' Things has a very large selection in various sizes. As Mr. De Baro remarks, "The pictures are specially treated with a polyurethane finish so they will not be damaged by water or steam. Also, they can be used in other rooms as well, such as the kitchen. In fact, many of our things are interchangeable in other rooms."

Prices cover a wide range at the shop, with pictures starting at $6, going on up to $70. Bath towels are $9.95 and up, bath pillows, $6.75, ceramic soap dishes $9.50 and up, shower curtains $25 and up, scales from $33, digital $57, and Electronic Talking Scales $125. A "Grand Opening Special" offers a white American Standard toilet for $59.95.

Gift wrapping and gift certificates will also be available.

Customers will enjoy the variety of items in the attractive shop and find it a pleasure either to buy or browse. Mrs. Ford and Mr. De Baro are looking forward to welcoming shoppers (who began arriving even before the shop was open), and they are very pleased with this location. "This shopping center is a very good spot," notes Mr. De Baro. "The people have been very friendly and cooperative. And, certainly, the parking is a big plus."

Hours for Bath 'N' Things are Monday-Saturday, 9:30 to 5:30.

Children Learn and Play At "Early Advantage"

"It's very easy to like kids. I'm here all the time, and after sitting at my desk, I love to go to the infant room or classroom area and play with the babies and toddlers. It's great, a real lift. I can't tell you how much I love to come here."

Everyone must wish they could speak as enthusiastically about their work as does Ed Glazer, one of the four owners of Early Advantage Discovery & Learning Centers, Inc. Located in the Rutgers Community Health Plan Building, at 4250 Route 1 North in Monmouth Junction, the new day care center opened this past June and already has more than 80 children, aged six weeks to five years, registered.

Mr. Glazer and his partners, Irene Glazer and Natalie and Jerry Margolis, established three other child care centers in Staten Island and Queens, which emphasize care for special needs children. As Mr. Glazer explains, however, "There is basically no difference in the services or concept for the special needs children than for this center, with the exception that one four of the day at the other centers is allotted to therapy for the special needs kids."

"I decided to open this center in New Jersey," he continues. "I was looking for a mix of community and corporate, and this was perfect. We're working very closely with corporations and the community at large. We're right on the number as to timing. More and more women are working, and more and more corporations are realizing they have to address this. It's a real issue. What I've been doing is working with personnel directors of different corporations."

"I've always been a businessman, and I handle the business end of the operation," he adds. "My wife, Irene, and Natalie Margolis were in the education field. They were teachers and interpreters for the deaf and have a combined total of 25 years experience in operating pre-school centers and special programs for children."

CARE FOR KIDS: A supportive environment, individual attention and quality care are available to children aged six weeks to five years at Early Advantage Discovery & Learning Centers, Inc. on Route 1 in Monmouth Junction. The new day care center provides a "Personal touch in your child's development, a home away from home."

Mr. Glazer is justifiably proud of his staff, which includes 25 teachers, all of whom have degrees in early education, and care-givers. "My staff-to-child ratio is very low," he notes, "with one staff member for three infants and one staff member to four toddlers. Also, our teachers and care-givers are different ages. We have both young people and mature women who are grandmothers and have a lot of experience. Most of our people have had prior daycare experience."

The program at Early Advantage is set up according to age. Babies (six weeks to one year) reside in two nurseries or infant rooms, which accommodate 12 and six respectively. Each baby has his or her own crib with mobile, and the rooms, like the entire center, are bright, spacious and cheerful.

"We hold the babies as much as we can," says Mr. Glazer. "There is a lot of cuddling and tender care. The babies change so quickly, they are fascinating to watch. Also, a record of each infant's activities — what he ate, etc. — during the day is given to the parent every day."

Cleanliness a Priority. Cleanliness is a number one priority throughout the center and especially in the nursery. Both staff and visitors remove their shoes before entering. The babies crawl on the floor and it is disinfected every night. Great care is taken when changing diapers, etc.

After they are a year old, the children move to the Tiny Tots section (one year to two), then to Toddlers I (two-2½), Toddlers II (2½-3½) and Pre-K (3½-five). The classroom sections are actually open areas set within a very large room. Mr. Glazer believes in open classrooms for two reasons. "One is developmental and educational. If a kid is more stimulated by the activities in the area next to him, there's no reason he can't go over and participate, and two, there is no place in this building that a child can be alone with an adult without someone else watching."

Play and learning are both very important at Early Advantage, and as Mr. Glazer explains, "We emphasize the educational component. Nothing is done here that doesn't teach them something. They may not know they are learning, but they are. If I have one job here, it's to get the kids ready for public school with a good, positive mental attitude."

"We use High Scope, an educational concept that stresses active learning," he continues. "The kids learn by doing, by immersing themselves in it. For example, the tiny tots are each given a symbol that is theirs alone. A heart, banana, ice cream cone, etc., and this symbol is put on their chair, cot, etc. It teaches them symbol recognition and also responsibility. They recognize which chair is theirs, etc. Symbol recognition is important. It lets kids know that things have meaning in this world."

With toddlers, the symbols become more sophisticated, and for the pre-K kids, words are included along with the symbols. "The teachers are trained to listen to signals," explains Mr. Glazer, "and when a child exhibits interest in something, like the word on the toy box, for instance, they will pick up on it and work with the child."

Mornings are very active, he reports, filled with lots of exercise and fun. "The music teacher and dance teacher really get them tumbling and running. We're very big into gross motor development — climbing, running and jumping. So everything we have is oversized."

Outdoor Activity. The children also play outside a lot. There are many big, oversized toys to climb on or crawl inside, including a big red train engine and castle, as well as a sand pile and numerous tricycles and balls.

Painting is one of the most popular activities, and aside from the usual easels and paints and brushes, Mr. Glazer reports that Early Advantage offers a few innovations. "The tiny tots enjoy finger painting, but they are very oral at this age and tend to put everything in their mouths, so they use

RHODODENDRON
with Sam DeTuro
Woodwinds Associates

Rhododendrons and azaleas have been exhibiting extensive foliar discoloration recently. Affected leaves usually appear scorched, even though adequate soil moisture has been available. Although over-fertilization is involved in some cases, leaf spot/blight caused by the fungus Phyllosticta has been observed most often.

When present, spots typically cover 50-75% of the leaf surface. After incubation in a moist chamber for several days, small black fruiting bodies can frequently be observed. To control, remove severely affected leaves and spray the rest of the foliage with benomyl, maneb, or zineb at 10-14 day intervals.

Gift to Stuart School Will Enrich Curriculum

A permanent fund, to be called the Alice Llewellyn Euhank Burke Fund, has been established at Stuart Country Day School in her memory by family and friends. Clothilde Burke, her daughter, is a member of Stuart's Class of 1977.

It is the wish of the donors that the fund be used to enrich Stuart's curriculum through integration of the visual arts into courses in all grades. The gift will support that effort in three ways: the purchase of art history resources and tools, including books, slides, video tapes, a cabinet and light table, and a camera to photograph illustrations; the training of faculty across the disciplines in resource use; and student field trips to major collections and lectures in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, D.C.

Ten Stuart faculty members served as a spearhead for the faculty training by participating in an intensive, week-long workshop this summer.

Nuclear Arms Conference Will Be Held on Sunday

The Nuclear Disarmament Education Fund of the Coalition for Nuclear Disarmament will hold its eighth annual interfaith service for peace and annual teaching conference on Sunday. The title of the conference is "Clearing Obstacles: Apathy to Action."

F. Forrester Church, senior minister of the Unitarian Church of All Souls in New York City, will preach the sermon for the interfaith service, to be held in the Princeton University Chapel at 11:15 a.m. Mr. Church is also a weekly columnist for the Chicago Tribune.

The afternoon session of the teaching conference will be held in the Woodrow Wilson School starting at 1:30. Speakers include Betty Flanagan Bumpers, founder of Peace Links and wife of Senator Dale Bumpers; psychologists Robert R. Holt, director of the Program on Peace and Global Policy Studies at New York University, and Milton Schwebel, professor emeritus of psychology at Rutgers University; Fred Reed, Washington editor for Harpers magazine; and Frank von Hippel, physicist and professor of public and international affairs at Princeton University.

The conference will move to McCosh 10 on the Princeton University campus for the evening session beginning at 7:30. A talk by Jessie Cocks, national coordinator for the American Peace Test, will be followed by the evening's keynote speaker, Bishop Thomas J. Gumbleton, Roman Catholic Auxiliary Bishop, Detroit. Bishop Gumbleton is a member of the Bishops' Committee that drafted the pastoral letter "Challenge of Peace."

The public is invited to attend; additional information and brochures are available from the Coalition for Nuclear Disarmament, 40 Witherspoon Street, telephone 924-5022.

chocolate pudding and similar things to paint with."

Displays of the children's creative artwork are prominently placed on the walls for all to see.

Concepts can be revealed to the kids in surprising ways, and Mr. Glazer notes that each month a different theme is emphasized. "Body Awareness is this month's theme, and the children made hand cookies the other morning and then had them as an afternoon snack. Also, they made Jello one day and had strawberries, bananas and grapes which the kids threw into the jello. Some things sank and some stayed on top, illustrating the sink and float concept. Then, later, they ate their experiment."

The center's approach to discipline is noteworthy, and Mr. Glazer comments that "We have a very definite discipline policy, and we give this training to our teachers. We don't use the word 'no.' Rather, we try to redirect the child. We emphasize sharing. And since we have the luxury of a very low staff-child ratio, each child can have individual attention."

Role for Parents. Parents are invited to play as active a role at Early Advantage as they wish. They are encouraged to visit often, and in fact, Mr. Glazer notes, "We know the toughest part of the day for the working mother is the morning, trying to get everything done and everyone ready, including herself. So we said, 'Don't bother everyone up and come here.' We provide a hot breakfast for the child and parent, and this can be some good quality time for them to spend together. Many take advantage of this opportunity."

Prices at Early Advantage range from $140 to $625 a month, with $400 an average fee. Costs vary depending on the age of the child and the time spent at the center. Arrangements are on a monthly basis, with the choice of attending all day, partial day (a nursery school is available for ages two to five), a few days a week or five days a week.

Care, fun and learning are the major ingredients at Early Advantage, but it also offers another service, one that is crucial, according to Mr. Glazer. "We strongly believe that every child should be fingerprinted. It's unfortunate, but necessary in today's world. We have a home fingerprint kit which we give to parents. We're providing them to the community at large, not just to those who are in Early Advantage. Just stop in and we'll be glad to give you one."

Early Advantage is open Monday to Friday from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. The telephone number is 201-329-6644.

Has Millennium Arrived for Princeton Football Team? It's Too Early to Tell, but Tigers Did it All at Dartmouth

Princeton 34 Dartmouth 3.

- Biggest margin of victory over any opponent (except Columbia) in 10 years (Cornell 34-0, 1977).
- Biggest opening day victory since 1955 (Rutgers 41-7).
- Biggest victory over Dartmouth since 1954 (49-7).
- Jason Garrett 14 for 18 for 219 yards and two touchdowns.
- Judd Garrett 18 carries for 134 yards and one touchdown.
- Jeff Baker six receptions for 139 yards and two touchdowns.
- John Garrett two receptions, four punts returned, and one interception. He played both offense and defense, the latter as a nickel back in passing situations.
- Dean Cain two interceptions.

SPORTS

tions, tying Princeton record for career interceptions (12), plus 10 tackles.

• Captain Matt Whalen, Dave Wilson, and Franco Pagnanelli 10 tackles apiece.

Is this it? Has the millennium arrived for Princeton football? Does it a) produce its first winning season in six years, b) cop the Ivy title, c) win 10 straight, and d) earn a trip to the Rose Bowl?

For now only the answer to "d" is certain. The only post-season trip the Tigers can earn is to Cannon Green, behind Nassau Hall, for a bonfire. No airline or hotel reservations are needed; admission is free.

Before any other predictions are made, the opening game euphoria should be tempered with a little reason. It was nothing more than an opening game between two teams struggling to rebound from poor seasons a year ago. The Orange and Black has obviously rebounded a lot further than Dartmouth.

THE DEAN OF PRINCETON'S SECONDARY: Dean Cain picked off this Dartmouth pass in the first period for his first of two on the afternoon. He is now tied with Pete Lips, '69 for career interceptions with 12. The senior free safety was ECAC co-player of the week for his efforts, which also included 10 tackles and a fumble recovery.

The Big Green may turn out to be every team's patsy this season. New coach Buddy Teevens is long on ideas and spirit, but looks short on talent, especially on offense. He has inherited a program that has produced only one winning season in the last nine years.

The better Ivy teams are still ahead for the Tigers. With its 17-13 loss to Cornell at home, Penn's hammerlock on the title may finally be broken, but others are waiting to claim it. The Big Red has to be considered the favorite now. Another contender is Brown, which won at New Haven. Harvard has beaten Columbia, but obviously has to do more to prove itself. In two weeks Princeton will meet Brown in Providence, a team it has not defeated since 1983. A victory there will be much more meaningful.

For now the one-sided victory over Dartmouth has demonstrated other things. The Garretts are for real, but not alone as the driving force on the team. Pushed in part by the memories of Ron Rogerson (a small brown football carrying the initials R.A.R. is on the left sleeve of every jersey) everybody contributed at Hanover. This combination of ability and emotion will give Princeton the strong potential to win not only the Ivy title, but every contest, including those against tough non-league rivals Lehigh and Colgate. This doesn't mean it will happen, but at least the potential to do so is there.

It's been almost two decades, far too long, since that was the case.

Sojourn in the South. Before resuming the Ivy wars, however, Old Nassau will take a side trip to the South this Saturday to meet Davidson in a 2 p.m. game at Charlotte, N.C. (Davidson's home field is in Davidson, N.C.)

It will be the first meeting ever between the two teams, and the farthest south the Tigers have ever played football.

A merciful change of destination has virtually insured that the Orange and Black will be 2-0 when they return, rather than a beat-up 1-1. It will make a winning record that much easier to attain.

Originally on this date, the Orange and Black was scheduled to play the second half of a home-and-home series with Northwestern in Evanston, Ill. The Wildcats won here a year ago, 37-0, in a game not as close as the score might indicate.

The Big 10 team was not happy to have Princeton back out on the agreement, but the result Saturday will be more pleasant for Tiger football fans. The Davidson Wildcats are toothless.

The best way to put the team in proper perspective is to say that if Columbia doesn't break the record for the longest losing streak, Davidson will. The Wildcats did not win a game last year, only one the year before, and have lost three straight so far this fall for a total 14 consecutive losses. They started with a 24-6 de-

Because of the limited numbers, Gatto expects many of his players to have to play both offense and defense, and unfortunately for Davidson there are no budding Gordie Lockbaums (Holy Cross' fine two-way player) among them.

The usual caveats about over-confidence and the possibility of upsets always apply, but this Princeton team is still soaring after its opening victory and won't let down on Saturday.

It Was a Hoot in Hanover; Tigers Take Control Early

The only anxious moments in Hanover came before the game, wondering if the rain would hold off (it did), and briefly in the first quarter when Dartmouth put together its only scoring drive of the day and tied the game at 3-3. The Tigers were in command the rest of the way on both sides of the ball.

And that is the key element here. Both platoons contributed significantly to the victory, each taking the pressure off the other. The defense got the ball back five times on turnovers, four interceptions and one fumble recovery, and the offense turned three of those opportunities into 17 points.

The secondary did a superb job defending all-Ivy receiver Craig Morton (three receptions for 36 yards). Just four linemen, led by David Rose, rushed inexperienced junior quarterback Chris Rorke, but they constantly forced him to scramble when receivers were not open. He finished with only 10 completions in 31 attempts. Dartmouth's running backs were no more successful, gaining only 101 yards in 31 attempts.

On offense, the attack looked like it had been balanced on a scale. The Tigers gained 219 yards through the air and 205 on the ground. In addition to Judd Garrett, fullback Jerry Santillo had a good day with 55 yards in 16 carries and one touchdown. Six players caught passes.

It took Jason Garrett just one game to prove he is a superb passer, but he has something else that makes him even more valuable to this team. It's a confidence in himself and his abilities that he can get the job done no matter what the odds. In the close games to come, this could mean the difference between winning and losing, and ultimately a league title or not.

The Garrett-to-Baker combination may become as successful as Doug Butler to Derek Graham. They combined on two picture pass plays for touchdowns. The first at the end of the opening quarter covered 52 yards, when Baker caught a rifle shot from Garrett around the 20, bounced off one defender, spun around and raced into the end zone. It gave Princeton a 10-3 lead, later expanded to 17-3 at the half on a four-yard run by Santillo.

The second came in the fourth period from the Dartmouth 12. Garrett threw a high pass to Baker in the corner of the end zone, and he outleaped a Dartmouth defender and came down with both feet in-bounds.

Judd Garrett stirred memories of Hank Bjorklund with a pretty 38-yard run late in the fourth for the final touchdown. If he keeps this up, he'll have a good shot at breaking Bjorklund's single-season rushing record of 1,081 yards.

After some initial breakdowns (Garrett was sacked four times), the offensive asserted itself, and its passing attack improved measurably in the second half. Scott's runs are a question mark at present.

Saturday's Picks

Princeton over Davidson* Tigers' first non-league win since '84 should be easy.

Lafayette* over Columbia. Leopards hand Lions 33rd consecutive loss.

Colgate over Cornell*. Led by Gamble, Raiders should prevail in close game.

Connecticut over Yale*. Elis weaker team than first thought.

Bucknell* over Penn. Bisons should pin second straight loss on Quakers.

Northeastern over Harvard*. Huskies a little too tough for Crimson.

Brown* over Rhode Island. Bruins should be 2-0 when they face Princeton next week.

New Hampshire* over Dartmouth. Another rough one for Big Green.

Last Week: 2-2

*Home Team

formed well, averaging 35 yards in four kicks.

Finally, the talented foot of field goal kicker Rob Goodwin gives an added dimension to the Tiger offense. Goodwin kicked field goals of 24 and 42 yards and hit on four PATs to run Princeton's string to 87 in a row — longest in Division I-AA.

A smiling Steve Tosehes, presented with his first victory as a head coach, commented, "I've dreamed this 100 times. I have good dreams. Even as a player, I was always positive. I never thought about the other side."

"We are a good team. We have talented players. You saw what we can do on offense and we were as good on defense. But as I told them, this is only one game, and there are nine more."

One and counting.

—Jeb Stuart

Hun Booters Are Now 2-0; Frank Rizzo New Coach

When 22-year-old Frank Rizzo, the new soccer coach at Hun School, was asked about the team's outlook for the new season, he said he wanted to wait until the team had a few games under its belt to see what he had before making any predictions.

When Hun crushed Solebury, 14-0, in its opener last week, Rizzo still wasn't sure. The picture became clearer in Hun's second outing Saturday, when Hun came from behind to defeat Newark Academy, 3-1, in overtime. The team has character.

"Anytime you can win after trailing in the middle of the fourth period, it's a big confidence builder," said Rizzo. "Especially for a team that doesn't know its own potential. We have a lot of new people out there."

Rizzo added he doesn't know if he is optimistic at this point. "Relieved," he said, might be a better word. "Relieved for the kids." With an easy win the kids get awfully high, Rizzo explained. To come back and have to struggle as they did against Newark and possibly lose, "it might have been really, really hard on them."

Ahead for Hun are home games with two long-time rivals. Hun will host Pennington School on Saturday at 1 and then entertain Princeton Day School next Wednesday, the 30th, at 3:45.

Trailing home-team Newark 1-0 with ten minutes left to play in the game, Marty Dear scored for Hun to send the game into overtime. Early in the first, ten-minute OT, senior Michael Knox scored the go-ahead goal. In the second overtime, Paul Greco, who had assisted on Dear's goal, scored for Hun, Knox assisting. Junior goalie Mike Nero had eight saves for the victors.

The opener against Solebury was over early, as Chung Lee scored three times for Hun in the first five minutes. Four-year veteran Deonte Monyoukaye, an explosive shooter with either foot and a superb ball handler, scored four goals and Knox contributed three more. Monyoukaye, who led the team in scoring last year with 22 goals and 24 the year before, co-captains the team with Joe Romano who had two goals. Chris Kamnitsis' two goals completed the Hun scoring.

Rizzo succeeds Dave Potter who left Hun to coach as an assistant in the college ranks. Potter's last season was his best when he guided Hun to an 11-6-1 mark and the semi-final round of the NJISAA state championship where it was ousted, 1-0, by Peddie.

Rizzo, who joined the Hun faculty last fall as a math teacher, is a graduate of Creskill High where he was a goalie on the Creskill soccer team.

Home Opener Saturday For Hun Football Team

Followers of the Hun School football team will get their chance to see the team play at home for the first time this season on Saturday.

Hun will host Academy of New Church at 2, and first-year coach Bill Long predicts it will be a good game. Defeating Newark Academy, 21-0, in its last start, Hun has outscored its opponents, 55-6, in winning its first two. In addition, Hun did not lose a player to injuries for the first time in the Newark win — a bonus because the only apparent weakness in the squad is its lack of numbers. "Hopefully, we'll start to heal up," said Long.

Academy of New Church, in its only start this season, was upset, 20-14, by Princeton Day School, after leading 14-0 at halftime. That was just the second loss for ANC in two years, according to Long, who reported that the Quakers lost only once last year and were undefeated two years ago.

ANC coach Dudley Davis, whom Long coached against for 15 years while football coach at Pennington School, is described by Long as "a great coach." Although visiting ANC has lost most of its players from those previous two teams, Long reports the Quakers have returning a great fullback and a standout halfback — the latter "the best back I have ever coached against."

Interception Turning Point. The turning point in Saturday's contest with Newark in Livingston came, said Long, with less than a minute left in the half. With Hun leading, 7-0, Hun defensive end Seth Wolkoff intercepted a swing pass intended for a Newark back and returned it 50 yards for a score. "That sort of broke their backs," said Long. "In the second half, they didn't cross the 50."

Dub Summers, Hun's 6-1, 185-pound Monster Back, had scored Hun's first TD on a two-yard plunge earlier in the second period, and halfback Roux Fulton added Hun's third score in the third period on a 17-yard run. Fulton led Hun in rushing, with 76 yards in eight carries, while Hun's other back in Long's double slot formation, halfback Danny Martz, contributed 37 yards. Quarterback Jim Sheeder gained 34 yards in five keepers.

Game conditions were poor. Long described the Minutemen's home field as a "tremendous mess. It was really muddy. It was one of the worst fields I've ever seen for the amount of water on it."

Hun had kicked off, held, and was in good field position when the center snap sailed over the kicker's head and Hun recovered. That opportunity was lost, however, when Hun was guilty of having 12 men on the field. Newark took advantage and controlled the ball for most of the first period.

Penalties kept Hun untracked in the early going. "We had a lot of penalties called on us," said Long. "We were constantly making yardage only to have the ball moved back."

McCorristin Next for PHS Football after 10-0 Steinert Loss

IT SHALL NOT PASS: Defensive back Jimmy Scott of Princeton High (white shirt) breaks up pass intended for Tom Young of Steinert from Young's twin brother, quarterback Scott Young. The Young-to-Young combination was more successful later, as Steinert turned back visiting PHS, 10-0.

As Princeton High football coach Kurt Vollherbst told his players after they had lost their opening game, 10-0, to Steinert Saturday, they had given it their best shot but it was not a winning shot.

Princeton made mistakes. Its offense failed to score any points; its kicking game was deficient; promising drives were short-circuited by penalties. Still, the home team Spartans were not all that impressive, either, until the final period, which led Vollherbst to comment: "This one was a tough one to lose."

"We don't have anything to be ashamed of," said Vollherbst after the game. "They gave it a good shot. I think we'll keep improving and we'll show better as the year goes on."

Although Vollherbst insists there are no easy games on the PHS schedule, if there were one that had to be singled out, it would be this week's opponent, McCorristin.

In one of three Friday games this year, the Little Tigers will host McCorristin at 7:30 at Princeton University's Frelighuysen Field opposite the open end of Palmer Stadium.

Last year, the Iron Mikes ended a 30-game losing streak, finishing with a 2-7 record, including a 12-0 victory over Nottingham in their final game. This year, McCorristin was a 24-6 loser to Hightstown in its season's opener. Like Vollherbst, Iron Mike coach Terry Martin is starting his second year and he hopes his squad will be able to put more points on the board than the 32 they scored all last fall.

No Field Position. The scoring in Saturday's opener with Steinert can be accounted for quickly. Steinert's Wayne Cassidy kicked a 24-yard field goal with .25 seconds left in the third period and the Spartans then consumed most of the final period with a 19-play, 75-yard drive that took the clock down from 9:40 to 1:17. The TD play was a one-yard pass from quarterback Scott Young to Paul Buck.

PHS, in turn, had trouble getting the ball, noted Vollherbst, and once it did, it had just as much trouble sustaining a drive. "Every time we'd get a first down or two, we'd make a mental mistake or Steinert would come up with a big defensive play," said Vollherbst. "We never had field position; we were in the hole most of the game."

Vollherbst laid part of the blame for the poor field position on the punt return team. "We let the ball drop too many times. We were not catching the ball." Bad snaps from center, Vollherbst added, hurt the kicking game. On one, PHS punter Balfour Merrill retrieved the snap that sailed over his head and turned it into a big play when he rambled down the sideline to the PHS 45 for Princeton's biggest play of the first half. Quarterback John Thompson then passed 16 yards to Jimmy Scott for another first down, but the drive halted four plays later.

In a lackluster first half, the visiting Little Tigers dominated, gaining six first downs to four for the Spartans. But throughout the game, PHS never really threatened to score. Its most effective weapon was the running of Darius Young who gained 66 yards in 12 carries.

Thompson Not 100%. The key to Princeton's offense is Thompson, and Vollherbst said it was obvious the Little Tiger quarterback was not 100 percent, although "he gave us a heck of a shot." Sideline at the start of practice with an ankle injury, Thompson, Vollherbst reported, had not returned to practice until the Tuesday before the game.

Vollherbst said he had entered the game concerned about the Spartans' passing game and the Young brothers. Though the Little Tigers were successful, he agreed, in denying Steinert the big play, the home team was able, Vollherbst continued, to use its passing game to get the first down when needed.

If there was a turning point in this game it may have come on a Spartan punt in the middle of the third period. Merrill, the 6-1, 192-pound defensive captain for the Little Tigers, a dominating presence on the field all during the game who tried to contain the Spartans single-handedly, was not able to contain his emotions.

On the punt, Merrill was blocked by Steinert's 145-pound Chris Bochart. As the two glared and exchanged words after the play, Merrill suddenly launched a punch in Bochart's face. On the sideline, he said he had reacted to Bochart's taunts.

Assistant coach Jim Harris tried to cool the steaming Merrill down. "That's part of the game," he counseled Merrill. "If you let him get to you and it costs your team 15 yards, then he's the one who's won."

Steinert kept the ball, was unable to capitalize, and punted to the PHS nine. Three plays later, Merrill was whistled again for using his elbows, the infraction pushing his teammates back half the distance to the goal to the ten. Unable to move the ball, PHS was forced to punt. A combination of a high snap from center and no one picking up an onrushing Spartan end resulted in Merrill being tackled on PHS ten-yard line by 190-pound Steinert lineman Bill Eversburg.

PHS almost escaped this bullet when on third down, defensive back Anthony Cucchi had his hands on a Young pass to Rob Mazzella but failed to hold on for the interception. On the

PHS Girls Win Twice In Tennis for 3-1 Mark

The Princeton High girls' tennis team rebounded from a 2-3 loss to Hightstown last week by defeating Montgomery, 3-2, last Wednesday and Ewing, 4-1, on Friday to increase its record to 3-1.

In matches ahead, the Little

PHS FIELD HOCKEY GOALIES: Goalies on the Princeton High field hockey team are senior Christine Sullo (left), the team captain, and her backup, junior Gita Nasdan.

Tigers will host Lawrenceville School on Friday at 3:45 and, in two league contests, will be at Lawrence High Monday and West Windsor on Tuesday.

Against Ewing, the lone PHS player to suffer a setback was freshman Kim Crusey who lost, 1-6, 1-6. Karen Castellano won, 6-2, 6-3, at second singles and Kristin Swartz breezed, 6-1, 6-1, in her third singles match.

Jill Litt and Kimya Farmanfarman captured the number one doubles, 6-3, 7-5. In second doubles, where coach Bill Humes continues to experiment with pairings, Humes matched seniors Jill Rosenfeld and Susan Crystal, who responded with a 6-1, 6-1 win.

Winners against Montgomery were Crusey, Castellano and Litt-Farmanfarman. In second doubles, Amie Fishman and Lea Darley won the first set, 6-4, but then lost the second two, 2-6 and 6-7, bowing in the tie-breaker, 4-7.

Nine PHS Seniors Return To Field Hockey Team

From a team that came within a whisker last year of winning the Central Jersey Group 3 championship, nine seniors will return.

The team is the Princeton High field hockey team. With that solid core of veterans returning, one would think the outlook for this year would be especially promising.

Maybe. But veteran PHS

coach Joyce Jones has been here too many times before to let herself get carried away.

"The magic answer is not a senior team," insisted Jones. "I've had senior teams in the past that did well and others that were okay. It's a good start, though. I'm not complaining."

What is not in question, reported Jones, is the enthusiasm of the squad. "We have lots of that," Jones added she is experimenting with different systems this year, emphasizing conditioning.

Every year, the goals do not change, said Jones. What changes are the new players and how the team adapts to try to take advantage of the skills of those players.

Opener Postponed. The Little Tigers were forced to wait a few more days before opening their season when the scheduled opener with Monroe was postponed by the Monroe officials because of poor weather conditions.

In games coming up, PHS will be at Lawrence this Wednesday afternoon, and at West Windsor on Tuesday. Both are league contests and both teams were on the minds of the Little Tigers in final week of 1986 regular season.

In the Valley Division, PHS had compiled an 8-4-1 season, the tie a game with West Windsor called because of darkness. Both coaches were under the impression the game would be completed at a later date. Lawrence was 9-4.

However, when the CVC athletic directors failed to cast a majority vote to break the tie game, the records stood and PHS was denied its chance to try to share the crown with the Cardinals. PHS then went on to excel in the state competition before being eliminated by North Hunterdon in overtime in what Jones called the best game her team had played all year.

Not much was expected from the 1986 Little Tigers, who were rebuilding. But they surprised the pre-season forecasters by finishing with a fine 14-6-1 overall mark. Seniors returning from what Jones calls her "almost team" are goalie and this year's captain Christine Sullo; defensive players Jen Causing, Silvana Nazzaro and Martha Parsons; Jenny Kim, Liz Hewson, Anne Tevebaugh and Susan Elliott, attack, and midfielder Cricket Jacobs.

Returning juniors include backup goalie Gita Nandan, Cindy Stovall, Kristy Collins and Rebecca Savidge.

PHS Girls Are Shut Out In Soccer for First Loss
Although Princeton High

goalie Saskia Webber was brilliant in front of the net, she couldn't stop Hopewell Valley from posting a 3-0 victory last week.

The loss was the first for the PHS girls' soccer team, after an opening win. It became the only game the Little Tigers played last week when Friday's contest with West Windsor was cancelled because of rain.

In a busy week ahead, PHS will be at McCorristin Wednesday, play its makeup contest with West Windsor here on Friday at 3:45 and host Montgomery on Monday.

"Saskia played a super game," said PHS coach Becky Mackey after the loss to Hopewell. "I'd guess the score would have been 8-0 or 9-0 if she didn't make the stops she did."

Bulldog coach Jim Loper agreed. "She's outstanding," he said. "If I were a college coach, I'd be looking for her." Webber was credited with 13 saves while her HV counterpart had to make only two.

"They outplayed us," said Mackey. "In the first half, we just watched; in the second half we got into it, but we were not playing our game. We'd get the ball and just kick it up. Hopewell looked good. They are a young team and they are really going to be strong."

In the post-game interview with her team, Mackey revealed that the PHS players, remembering last year when the Bulldogs had struggled, agreed they had taken Hopewell too much for granted. "After the Lawrence win, they were really surprised," said Mackey.

Mackey added the team has had some good practices since the Hopewell loss and reports that she has made some changes in the lineup to put more speed in the backfield.

PHS Booters Struggling; Still Looking for 1st Win

Four games into the season and the Princeton High boys' soccer team is still looking for its first win and coach Ron Celestin is still trying to find the reasons why.

On Monday, the Little Tigers were blanked, 2-0, by Ewing for their third straight loss, after an opening tie. "There was a lack of enthusiasm; we weren't ready," said a puzzled Celestin.

Earlier, PHS had been blanked by Hopewell, 3-0, but Celestin conceded that the Bulldogs were "definitely, a much better team. One of the best, probably in the conference."

Two days later on Friday, PHS had carried a 2-1 lead over West Windsor into the final period off goals by Drew Wartenburg and Mark Fiuczynski.

Then, recalled Celestin, Princeton had made some mental mistakes and West Windsor did not give up. "They played hard. It was a very physical game." The Pirates came on to outscore the visiting Little Tigers, 3-1, in the final period to snatch a 4-3 victory.

"Today," said Celestin, "we had guys late for the bus. On the way to the game they seemed to be talking about everything except the game. As a coach, it makes you wonder."

PHS was flat in the first half against Ewing but came alive, said Celestin in the fourth period when it missed some chances to score. "One of our biggest problems over the years has been finishing," Celestin added.

"At this stage we can't afford to stay off track. We just weren't up for it. You wonder why. I come home and keep going over the game, thinking what could I have done to better prepare them?"

Ahead for PHS are games with McCorristin at home this Wednesday at 3:30 and at Montgomery on Monday. Said Celestin: "We hope to come out of this with two wins; if not, we are in for a long season."

Girls Fall, 3-0. The PHS girls' soccer team was also blanked by Ewing, 3-0, to slip to 1-2.

Once again, PHS goalie Saskia Webber was outstanding in front of the net with 29 saves but she received little help from the Little Tiger offense. Ewing won its fifth straight without a loss.

First Win for Field Hockey. Remembering that last year Ewing had upset her team, 1-0, PHS field hockey coach Joyce Jones had promised not to take Ewing lightly.

On Monday, the Little Tigers' opening game of the season, it was revenge time as PHS blanked the Blue Devils, 2-0.

THE BROTHERS MARSEILLE: Brothers and starters on the Princeton High boys soccer team are goalie Wagner Marseille (left) and right wing Snider Marseille. Both are juniors.

Liz Hewson scored both goals, the first coming 12 minutes into the game off an assist by Susan Elliott and the other in the second half when her shot was deflected off the pads of the Ewing goalie. Christine Sullo and Gita Nandan combined to block nine shots in goal for PHS.

Tennis Team Wins. Sweeping all matches, the PHS girls' tennis team won its fourth match against one loss when it blanked Lawrence High, 5-0. Kim Causey, Karen Bradford and Lulu Bradford won in straight sets, although Bradford, playing singles for the first time, was extended 7-6, 7-6, by the Cardinals' Chris Pluta.

Kristin Swartz and Joanna Baum captured the first doubles in three sets, losing the first, 6-7, but then rebounding, 6-2, 6-0. Jill Litt and Kimya Farmanfarman were also extended to three sets before winning the second doubles.

Cross Country Teams Win. Both the boys' and girls' PHS cross country teams won opening meets on Monday.

In a tri-meet with Montgomery and West Windsor on their home, 3.1 mile course, the boys defeated Montgomery, 20-38, and West Windsor, 16-44. The Cougars' Mark Schoenfeld posted the best time of 16:29 but the Little Tigers swept the next four. Second-place John Rogerson was timed in 16:46, Rian Bogle in 17:12, John Clark in 17:43 and Clarke McFarlane in 17:47. McFarlane and Clark are captains of the team.

Led by its two veteran runners, Karin Swartz and Sandra Tignor, the PHS girls handled West Windsor, 19-36. Swartz finished a step ahead of Tignor but both were timed in 19:57. Kate Sullivan of Montgomery was a distant third in 21:37.

Both Montgomery and Lawrence forfeited to PHS and WW after they were unable to field full teams. Sue Patterson and Becky Elden came in sixth and seventh for PHS.

Second-Half Rally Gives PDS Football First Win

For the first half of the opening game against Academy of New Church last Saturday, it looked like nothing but the season had changed for the Princeton Day football team.

Two mistakes had cost the Panthers two touchdowns, and fumbles, penalties and other problems had let other scoring opportunities slip away. One more half to play, and another defeat would be tacked on to the eight consecutive losses PDS suffered last season.

But this is a different team, dominated by seniors who are dedicated to proving that this year will be different. And in the final two quarters they went out and proved that it would be.

"This was a real important step for us," commented coach Jim Walker. "Younger kids might have let down, but we had seniors and we knew we had the room to run the ball. The holes were there in the first half, but we were trying to run too wide."

Both teams had trouble hanging onto the ball in the opening quarter, each fumbling twice. PDS was deep in ANC territory at the time, and each fumble cost it a chance to score. Later in the period, a 24-yard pass play gave the home team a 6-0 lead.

It extended that advantage to 14-0 in the second quarter after another PDS miscue. A Jamie Knill interception gave the Panthers the ball on their eight, but they had to punt shortly thereafter from their five. A shanked punt from deep in the end zone went only to the seven, where an ANC lineman grabbed the ball and ran in for six points. A run for the two-point conversion succeeded.

Eaton Gets Panthers Going. Senior Brit Eaton, who played an outstanding game both on offense and defense, got the Panthers rolling in the third period with a spectacular interception, made while lying on the ground. That gave PDS the ball on the ANC 47, and minutes later it scored.

Two plays after an ANC defender was called for face guarding tight end Seth Woodward on a pass from quarterback Carlos Sagebien, PDS came back with the same call. Woodward beat his man again and hauled in the pass for six points. Eaton made the two-point conversion on his own, battling his way into the end zone.

Turnovers continued to play a major part in the game. Steve Fulmer caused one that was recovered by Alex Sagebien, but PDS could not capitalize on the opportunity to close the 14-8 gap. Later, after an exchange of punts, PDS drove to inside the ANC five, where Eaton fumbled.

Moments later a loose ball, created by a fine defensive play by Jeff Walker, bounced PDS's way. Alex Sagebien recovered this fumble inside the five, and Eaton scored on the next play to tie the game. It remained deadlocked when a run for two points failed.

With approximately half the fourth quarter remaining, two more turnovers followed — this time through the air. Chris Overman intercepted for PDS and ran the ball back to the ANC 35. But a few plays later Carlos Sagebien's pass was picked off inside the 10.

Fortunately, the home team still had one fumble left; it had eight turnovers overall to PDS's four. Jeff Zawadsky recovered the ball on the seven, and three plays later Eaton took the ball over for the winning score. His second interception locked up the victory for PDS.

In addition to Eaton, who wound up with 97 yards on 18 carries and two touchdowns, Walker praised the play of Alan Howard, who led the team with six tackles, and constantly harassed the opposing quarterback. He also cited the play of Alex Sagebien, who did a fine job at center, filling in for the injured Scott Kelberg.

Carlos Sagebien had a good start as a passer, completing six of 11 for 66 yards. PDS had 264 total yards of offense, with Overman gaining 46 on seven carries, Zach Gursky running for 27, Robert Biro, 19 and Steve Morino, 11.

Next up is Montclair-Kimberley, which lost its opener to Riverdale, 7-3. According to Walker, MKA has a good quarterback and a good defense, and he predicts a pretty even game. He also predicts this PDS team is going to get better in future games as it becomes more familiar with the offense.

PDS Tennis Splits Pair, Winning and Losing, 5-0

On consecutive days last week the Princeton Day girls' tennis team found itself an easy winner and loser.

The Panthers opened their season Tuesday with a 5-0 triumph over Stuart, losing only one set in the process. The following day, however, the Panthers failed to win one set, losing by the same score to Germantown in Pennsylvania.

Jennifer Thurman, Heidi Puchner and Suzie Liebowitz playing first, second and third singles, respectively, won just three games between them against Germantown. All three had breezed to straight set triumphs the day before.

In the doubles Julia Herr and Heather Roberts lost the first set in a tiebreaker (7-6) and dropped the second 6-2. Herr/Roberts had won 6-3, 6-1 previously against Stuart. The second doubles team of Debbie Jones and Elaine Chou also had a close match against Germantown, before losing, 6-3, 7-5. They had the only three-set match of the week, winning 4-6, 6-2, 6-2 against Stuart.

After a match against Lawrence High, scheduled to be played this past Tuesday, coach Rome Campbell's team will meet Montclair-Kimberley this Saturday.

PDS Girls' Soccer Opens Season With 4-0 Victory

They won't all be as easy, but for openers the Princeton Day girls' soccer team enjoyed a 4-0 triumph over Germantown Academy last week.

A pair of sophomores, Jennifer Myers and Laura Perhach, led the Panthers with two goals apiece in the second and fourth periods. Myers opened the scoring, assisted by Hillary Miller, and Perhach made it 2-0 on a penalty kick.

In the final quarter, Myers scored an unassisted tally, and Alicia Collins fed Perhach for the fourth goal. Sophomore Edith Roberts needed to make just six saves in goal. Kysha White and Collins played well on defense.

The Blue and White will next be in action Saturday morning against Montclair-Kimberley, and the following Wednesday at Princeton High. Friday's contest with Hun was rained out.

Also rained out was the season's opener for the PDS field hockey team, which was to have played Pingry on Friday. The Panthers' first game will now be Thursday at Hopewell Valley.

home game Saturday against Montclair-Kimberley.

PDS Boys' Soccer Loses Opening Game to D-E, 4-3 PDS Monday Round Up: Tennis, Boys' Soccer Win

The Princeton Day boys' soccer team may have been feeling the effects of a long bus ride last week when it finally arrived at Dwight-Englewood.

In their opening game of the season, the Panthers dropped a 4-3 overtime decision to a team they had walloped, 7-0, a year ago. It was not a good way to begin defense of their Prep B championship.

Dwight took a 1-0 lead in the first quarter and scored again in the second, before Keith Jones, assisted by Delon Mollett, made it 2-1. Mollett tied it at 2-2 in the fourth, sending the game into overtime. The home team tallied twice in the first extra session, and when the teams switched ends, PDS could only get one goal back. Greg Myers converted a pass from Mollett to make the final score, 4-3.

Two contests are on tap for the Panthers this week, the home opener Wednesday against Hamilton, and another

In Monday sports action involving Princeton Day teams, both the tennis and boys' soccer teams came up winners.

A 4-1 victory over Peddie gave the Panthers their second victory against one loss in tennis. First singles player Jennifer Thurman was the only PDS player to lose, dropping a two-set match to Pia Clements, 6-4, 6-3.

Heidi Puchner and Kate Lee won at second and third singles by the same 6-4, 6-3 score. In doubles play, Julia Herr and Suzie Liebowitz did not lose a game at the number one spot, while Heather Roberts and Meghan Hall dropped just one in their easy triumph.

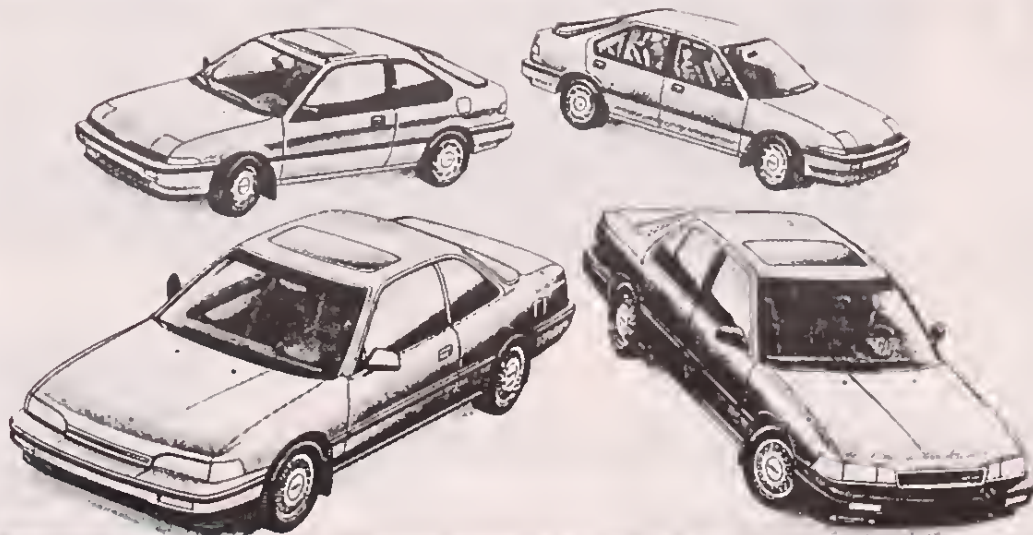

Carlos Cara's soccer team evened its record at 1-1, blanking Morristown-Beard, 2-0. Delon Mollett continued his fine play on offense, scoring in the first period and assisting on Collins Roth's fourth period tally. Paul Goldman recorded eight saves in goal.
